MUST RAISE FUNDS AT ONCE

Zion City People Asked to Contribute Funds to Keep Schools Open

The uncanny fear of the dead Dowie's threats seems settling even more gloomily over the people of Zion City and now a general edict has been spread among them announcing a deficiency of more than $2000 in the school fund, which if not supplied by Wednesday night will be the cause of the suspension of the educational system of Zion to take effect Friday evening.

And the people fear that this is another evidence of the power of their former leader, whom they discarded for Voliva. They are leaving the city by scores and are going to all parts of the country, many of them even to Canada and foreign climes.

During the illness of Overseer Voliva the services in the tabernacle have been conducter by Overseer H. D. Brasefield. He made the announcement that the school funds were exhausted and that unless the people could raise the necessary $2000 with which to pay the salaries of the teachers the schools would be closed Friday night. This sum of money, he said, must be in the coffers of the church educational department by Wednesday night.

Should the schools close many of the families probably would leave the town immediately in order to secure educational opportunities for their children elsewhere. Within the last three weeks a score or more of families have left Zion City. The closing of the schools, it is feared, will give this exodus an impulse which will prove fatal to the further growth of the town.

The fact that the schools of Zion City have already been open for six months this year prevents the intervention of the state through the compulsory education legislation. There are four junior schools and one preparatory school in the city.

Besides personal appeals the local officials of Zion are posting placards about the city which are headed "Schools or No Schools" and which contain a statement of the financial condition of the school system and the amount which it is necessary they must raise or discontinue the schools for the year.

In speaking of the school matter, the Zion News says in its Saturday issue:

Circulars are out setting forth the urgent need for funds with which to continue the Zion City schools. Each of the various schools show considerable deficits, and unless they are met very soon the schools will have to be put on a purely subscription basis.

This would work a hardship to some, hence we trust the appeal for money that is being made will be promptly responded to.

There are some who have no children, and these ought, for the good of the city, to help bear the burden.

The Preparatory school has a deficit of $117.80 and the 21st street school a deficit of $405.91. The 26th street makes the least showing being in debt only $122.35; the 30th street school is behind $255.54, and the 31st street school $229.98; making a grand total of $1,131.58 indebtedness.

The city has frequently come up with the money to meet these school debts and we trust everybody will do his best just now, which is a critical time for our educational institutions.

An interesting meeting of the committee of forty was held on Tuesday evening.

Among the encouraging things brought out was that the taxes on the estate of Zion are being met, and one-half the accrued interest on mortgaged indebtedness is being taken care of by Mr. Hatley, who is doing all he can to make the institutions pay. In this he is succeeding in a measure, as all these expenses are being met from pfofits made by the various industrial departments.

Negotiations for the sale of the lace factory are still going on, and will in all probability be consumated within the next few weeks.

The reorganization project has carried by an overwhelming margin, and developments may be speedily looked for.

HATCH FISH AT FOX OR GRASS LAKE

Senator Tiffany Working for Lake County Fish Hatchery

Senator Tiffany's plans for a state fish hatchery to be located among the lakes of north-western Lake county are said to be maturing by those who claim to know the conditions and a scheme which he has been petting for months is now budding out until the hoped for ending is almost in view.

The senator has been busying himself much upon the subject of late and has visited neighboring state hatcheries to gain information upon the subject which he long ago brouched and urged at Springfield. The matter has been kept quiet and until now little has been learned by the public or press upon the subject.

The ideally located lakes of the western and northern part of the county are said to be highly conducive to the ultimate success of his undertaking. The marshy streams and quiet fresh water lakes of the locality are the best in the world for the work.

Hitherto many plantings of small fry taken from hatchings of spawn gathered in distant parts of the state have been released among the lakes. Experts have announced that nowhere are conditions better for a fish hatchery than in the vicinity mentioned and everything points toward a final successful outcome of Senator Tiffany's ambitions, the locating of a hatchery on one of the county lakes.

The exact site has not been stated, though it is said one is under consideration. Probably either Fox or Grass lakes will be successful in securing the plum. The expenditure as yet is a secret and known only by the officials interested who will not divulge its extent, but it is stated authoritatively that it will be a considerable one.

CONVICT STONE FOR LAKE COUNTY ROADS

State Donates Use if Roads are Constructed in Certain Manner

Stone crushed by convicts at the Joliet state penitentiary will be used on Lake county country roads in the near future if plans of representative Gibbons of Deerfield, reach maturity. For some time he has been making an effort to obtain a large quantity of this material which is manufactured for public road utility.

The roads upon which it is planned to place the stone are in Deerfield and Shields townships. The state road commission agrees to furnish stone for public roads, but requires that the roads be laid out and the stone used according to specifications furnished by that board and in quantities which they prescribe.

The only drawback is said to be that they refuse to ship in small quantities and are very strict in their requirements as to conditions.

Libertyville township may succeed in using a quantity of stone crushed by convicts. It is absolutely free, the only expense the receiving township is put to being that it has to pay the freight of the stone and build the roads according to the set plans. A Libertyville township official has been in communication with the state board upon the subject.

The stone makes an admirable road bed and when the requirements of the state are met, the roads completed are ideal macadamized roads, such as are seldom found in rural districts. It is reported Deerfield township is sure to be granted the request for stone that has been made and that the work will be begun before the summer is over.

PATRONIZE HOME MERCHANTS

Don't Spend Your Good Money With Chicago Catalogue Houses

Many millions of dollars are sent annually by Illinois people to the catalogue houses of Chicago. The extent of this business in shown by the rapid enlarging and rebuilding of the mammoth establishments, the high rato of dividends, the listing of stocks on the Chicago exchange and the immense amount of advertising. Big dividends also argue that the boasted cheap prices are merely apparent.

Some towns report that one-half of the goods coming to the freight warehouse is sent directly to customers instead of to the local merchants. Illinois people both rural and suburban, are patronizing catalogue houses extensively.

This method of buying has many difficulties. Many crude cuts of articles must be examined. Many pages of highly colored descriptions in fine print must be read laborously to discover if possible, what appears to be the article desired. After much debating and indicision certain articles are chosen. Then minute details of size, color, weight, etc., must be written on the elaborate blanks of the company. A money order or draft is obtained and the bulky order is finally on its way to Chicago.

Days or weeks later the goods arrive. A heavy freight charge on retail shipments of a miscellaneous order is inevitable. Unpacking reveals the usual misfit and the wrong colors and poor qualities. General dissatisfaction with part or all of the goods often necessitates repacking and cartage to the freight depot for return to Chicago. The returned goods are accompanied by long explanations of the error and the desired correction. After more exasperating details goods which give a fair degree of satisfaction are in the hands of the customer. The urgent need for some of the goods has passed. It is a case of buying laboriously with only apparent cheapness, then repeating with equal weariness.

Would it not be better to buy of your home merchant who at all times is willing to get you what you want if they do not happen to have it in shock and thereby save you the freight and worry?

Who trusts you when you are hard up? Surely not the catalogue houses, for they dem and their money in advance, and you buy unsight and unseen.

Patronize your home merchant and in the long run you will be the gainer.

ELECTRIC LIGHT IS ASSURED

Plant to be in Running Order by September First

Antioch is to have electric lights and also an ample supply of water for fire protection if the present plans are carried out, and all indications are that they will be during the coming summer.

At a meeting of the village board held on Wednesday evening of last week it was voted to pass an ordinance, granting to H. H. Kellogg, of Waukegan a franchise for the erection and maintainance of an electric light plant in the village of Antioch. The matter has been under consideration for a number of weeks but arrangements that were satisfactory to all parties concerned were arrived at only last week.

The franchise calls for the furnishing to the town sixteen arc lights and twenty-two incandescent lights and also that power be furnished for the pumping of water into a tank furnished by the village, which will be used for the purpose of fire protection. And in consideration for this service the town agrees to pay the sum of one hundred dollars per month.

Mr. Kellogg on his part put up a forfeiture bond of $1200 as a guarantee that the plant will be in running order by September 1, 1907.

Mr. Kellogg has not as yet decided where he will erect the plant, but is considering the advisability of placing it near the rail road where sidetrack facilities can be had.

The work of building will be commenced as soon as possible and rushed to completion.

This is an improvement that Antioch has long been in need of and Mr. Kellogg should receive the hearty support of the citizens of the village, and when once the plant is established here, without a doubt many of the residents will install the lights in their homes and places of business.

INTRODUCE BILL AGAINST POWDER MILL

People of Pleasant Prairie Carry Fight to the State Legislature

The people of the village of Pleasant Prairie and the farmers residing in the neighborhood of the powder mills of the Laflin-Rand Company in that town have carried their fight to the state legislature and petitions are now being circulated asking the members of the legislature to pass a bill which will practically put the powder company out of business in Wisconsin. The bill has been introduced in the assembly by Assemblyman Curtiss of Kenosha county and it will certainly have a great effect on the business of the plant if it is passed.

The petitions state that this bill should be passed at once on account of the fact that the company is storing as much as 120,000 pounds of dynamite at the plant at the present time. It is claimed that recently two cars of dynamite containing many tons were left standing in the railway yards at Kenosha for many hours, but this statement can not be verified.

The bill proposed by Assemblyman Curtis which has just been reported from the committees on revision, provides that no powder shall be manufactured within a half mile of any village, church or school house within the state of Wisconsin and that no company shall store at any plant in the state more than 1,000 pounds of dynamite or giant powder after the first day of next May. The bill limits the amount of powder to be manufactured at one time to 1,000 pounds. The violation of the law is made punishable by a prison term or a fine of from $500 to $2,000. Under the bill the manufacture of powder and the management of all powder making plants will be under the direct supervision of the state factory inspector and he shall be furnished a chart of the grounds and buildings before any powder is made.

Many people have signed the petitions in Kenosha as well as in Pleasant Prairie and other parts of the county.

Unwritten Law.

"You are charged with the theft of a horse. Anything to say?"

"Your honor," responded the man at bar, "I claim justification under the unwritten law."

"Unwritten law?"

"I made it a law of conduct to steal anything in sight, and did this while still too young to write."

Necessarily the court took the case under advisement.

Men are strange creatures. They grumble if we are extravagant and frivolous; they do not like us to be too simple in our habits.—Lady's Pictorial.

"MANLY ART" IN FRANCE.

Sport of Boxing Just Now Something of a Craze.

Boxing has become quite the rage in Paris; the old savate, with its effective high kicking, has been discarded for the "noble art" of Britain. But our lively neighbor the Gaul has always had a sneaking affection for a manly bout of fisticuffs a l'Anglais. When Owen Swift, the famous champion of the lightweights, took refuge in Paris after killing his opponent, Brighton Bill, in a prize fight, he was patronized by all the members of the French Jockey club. After a fierce battle at Charenton with Jack Adams, another pugilist of renown, Swift was arrested and brought before the Paris tribunal of correctional police on a charge of "having inflicted wounds occasioning an incapacity to labor for less than 20 days." Owen's description in his evidence, of the course of training which he had to go through had an amusing effect upon the young sporting swells of Paris. For months afterward these young exquisites might be seen going at their best pace along the streets and boulevards, muffled up to their eyes in sweaters and greatcoats, getting into condition for boxing.—T. P. O. of London.

Ways of the Lordly Sex.

The ordinary man would still much rather glorify women and set them on a mock throne, whence he can depose them at will, than have to acknowledge in them a real title to regard. It is difficult for a man to overcome his essential self-importance. Most of us, perhaps, prefer to have inferiors round us—an abject trait of character, but natural. And only very slowly have we men been getting to prefer our womankind as friends and equals rather than as queens and pets, ruling us as a baby or a spoiled dog does.—London Saturday Review.

Village Caucus.

A People's Caucus will be held at the village hall, in the village of Antioch, Ill., on Saturday evening March 30, 1907 at 7:30 o'clock, for the purpose of nominating

WHERE INGENUITY WON OUT.

Betting Man Had Studied Conditions of Wager.

C. S. Rolls, the English aeronaut and motorist, was talking in New York about the aeroplane.

"I think the Wrights will win," he said. "Santos-Dumont is ingenious, but the Wrights are more ingenious still. They are as ingenious as—as a betting friend of mine."

Mr. Rolls smiled and resumed:

"My friend, Capt. Bragge, bet an athlete that he could not hop up a certain long flight of steps two at a time. The athlete took the bet, and made the trial. But there were 41 steps to the flight, and therefore, after making 20 hops the man found that he had lost. He paid up, but accused Capt. Bragge of sharp practice.

"'Sharp practice!' said Bragge, indignantly. 'Well, I'll make the same bet with you that I can do it.'

"The other, expecting to win his money back, assented.

"Capt. Bragge then hopped up 40 steps in 20 hops and, hopping back one, finished in the prescribed manner and won the bet."

"Apple of the Eye."

The term apple of the eye, used in the Bible, is frequently applied to anything highly esteemed. An apple yard is an orchard, or a field devoted to the rearing of apple trees. The wood of the apple tree is close-fibred and hard, and is used for turning into articles for which a hard grained wood is required.

Havoc by Nun Butterfly.

The dreaded nun butterfly is appearing everywhere in Bohemia, threatening the devastation of the forests. The neighboring woods of Saxony and Silesia are also threatened. The ministry of agriculture has named a commission to investigate.

MR. RILEY DID NOT KNOW.

Woman Reporter Asked Question Hard to Answer.

A friend of James Whitcomb Riley tells a story of an encounter the bachelor poet once had with a woman reporter. The energetic young woman after strenuous effort had finally caught Mr. Riley at the telephone. This is the conversation that followed:

"Is this Mr. Riley?"

"Yes. That is Miss—?"

"Miss Jones, of the Courier-Journal. I've been trying all day to get an interview with you, Mr. Riley."

"Ah, would it were a view instead of an interview," said the poet, gallantly.

"Oh, thanks. How long will you remain in Louisville, Mr. Riley?"

"Only a short time."

"Is your wife with you?"

"No, ma'am, she is not."

"Where is she, may I ask?"

"You may ask, my dear Miss Jones, but I find it very difficult to answer. I am in absolute ignorance of her whereabouts. For aught I know to the contrary, she may right now be at the other end of this telephone!"

There was much laughter, and afterward an effort to resume the interview. But in vain. Mr. Riley had escaped.—Home Companion.

Why, What Did He Go For!

"Bobby, did you have a good time at the party?"

"Yes, mother."

"Why didn't you stay until it was over?"

"What was the use, mother? I couldn't eat any more."—Stray Stories.

Modern Hospitality.

Hospitality is that subtle something whereby fair women and brave men are compelled to march to a personage they hate and thank her for boring them to death.—Puck.

WOULD BE NO DISTURBANCE.

Woman Merely Had Little Account to Settle with Husband.

She was a middle aged colored woman of muscular build, and as she stopped at one of the gates in the Union depot the other morning the official took notice that she was greatly perturbed and breathing hard.

"Madam, you seem to be excited," he said, as she choked and gurgled and coughed.

"Yes, sah, I does. I dun run mos' all de way from de house, and I fell down fo' times on de way. If I gits sight of dat pusson he will also be afflicted wid overexcitement—heaps of it."

"You have something under your shawl," he said, as his eyes detected a bulge to the garment.

"Yes, sah," she replied, as she removed and held up to view an old axe handle. "Dis am what will bring on dat overexcitement in case dat pusson shows up yere."

"But I can't permit any violence or disturbance, madam."

"Oh, dere won't be no fussin' aroun'. De pusson I done spoke of am my husband. He's done made up his mind to leave me fur another woman, and I 'spects 'em yere to take de train."

"And you won't disturb the peace?"

"Not at all, sah—no, sah. Dar won't be no disturbance. When I git eyes on him I shall spit on my hands, grip dis yere handle and jump for him, and befo' he comes to I'll have him home and all tucked in bed. No, sah—no disturbance 'cept dat I shall ax de people to stand back so dat I kin git a full swing of my arm to mash him!"—Chicago Daily News.

Admiral Wouldn't Be Bluffed.

The kaiser is a quick eater and the instant he lays down his knife and fork the waiters make a descent upon the plates of all at table, whether they have finished or not and clear for the next course. One day the emperor had on his right an old admiral whose racy bluntness of speech he much relishes. The old salt is also a bit of a gourmet, and it so happened that one of the dishes was his own peculiar favorite. But the emperor plied him so with questions and talk—perhaps of malice prepense—that the old fellow could scarcely get a chance for a mouthful before the sovereign's knife and fork were laid down and there was the regulation clearance rush. A grasp had already been laid on the admiral's plate, but, red with anger, he dug his fork into the intruding hand with a gruff "Get out!" and went on with a relish amid a general roar of laughter.

Too Much of a Good Thing.

Arnold Daly had been invited to tell a story at a theatrical banquet in New York.

"I always hate to tell a story," he began, "because my listeners may have heard it before. What boredom that is for them, what agony for me.

"It is like the case of a friend of mine. He is deaf, but tries to conceal his deafness.

"And one night at a dinner the host told a story at which everybody roared and my deaf friend joined in and outroared the whole table, though in truth he hadn't heard a word.

"'That story,' he began, 'reminds me of another one—'

"And then the poor fellow went on and told the very same yarn the host had repeated only a minute before."

DEMAND HAS RAISED PRICE.

Largely Increased Returns for the Breeders of Ostriches.

"Undyed and uncurled ostrich feathers—feathers in the natural state—will be a good deal worn from now on," said the salesman. "In consequence the price has gone up.

"It has gone up all along the line. The eggs, the chicks, the birds, the feathers, all have risen.

"The crop plucked from one bird was worth $75 last year, but it is now worth $110.

"Eggs that used to sell for two dollars apiece bring three dollars to-day—and, by the way, in buying ostrich eggs whack them with a key and see that they give forth a clear, ringing sound, for if the sound is dull they are those papier mache eggs that have fooled so many of us lately.

"Chicks and mature birds, if the demand keeps up, will nearly go back to their old-time prices. In the old days a good pair of adults was worth $5,000, and chicks brought $500 apiece. The price dropped to $150 a pair for adults and $20 a pair for chicks. Now, though it has risen 20 per cent.

"I have seen wild ostriches in that cinnamon-colored waste of sand and stone that is called the Sahara desert—a cinnamon-colored waste encircled by flame-red mountains—and I have chased them many a time on a fleet Arab. But what is a fleet Arab beside an ostrich? It is a mule cart beside a 90 horse-power racer."

Western Hustle.

In Salt Lake City were several firms which mailed advertising circulars to the farmers of the surrounding country when they had anything new to offer, says the Saturday Evening Post. A bright boy went to these men, and offered to deliver 2,000 such circulars in the rural free delivery mail boxes for five dollars. Six different firms accepted the offer. The lad then went to the printer, and secured a commission of five dollars on the sale of the 12,000 circulars. Next, he started out in a rig which he secured rent free from the livery stable in return for nailing up signs advertising it. The delivery of the circulars took him four days, for which he had received $35—nearly nine dollars a day.

Out of the Mouth of Babes.

The caller didn't look it, but she declared to little Clorinda that she dearly loved children. It may be that she said so because she heard the distant swish of the skirts of Clorinda's mamma, but, whatever the cause, she repeated it urgingly. Then, as the small lady with the pet cat made no move to answer her invitation to come and make friends, she asked: "Why is it that you love your kitty better than me, dearie?" Then Clorinda's mamma entered the room with an ill-concealed smile, as she heard her daughter answer: "'Cause she purrs as if she meant it."

Suicide Among Negroes.

The number of negroes committing suicide is increasing rapidly each year, but before emancipation such thing as a negro killing himself was almost unheard of. Now they occur with great frequency.

...ON IS SET FREE

...R SENATOR FROM KANSAS ...IES HE SEEKS REVENGE.

...OULDN'T HURT OTHERS

Says He Will Publish Newspaper in Which History of His Case Will Appear as a Serial.

Ironton, Mo. — Joseph Ralph Burton, who until his conviction in the federal court, was United States senator from Kansas, was Friday morning released from the county jail here, having completed his sentence of six months, imposed when he was found guilty of violating a federal statute by appearing before a governmental department as the paid representative of an alleged "get-rich-quick" concern of St. Louis.

Burton entered the jail at Ironton, October 22, 1906. His release is due to the law which provides for a deduction from a sentence for good behavior. Burton's sentence also included a fine of $2,500, and the statute under which he was convicted debars him from ever holding an office of trust or remuneration under the federal government. The fine, which has not been paid, will be held over him as a civil judgment. Upon leaving the jail Burton gave out the following signed statement:

"This is the first signed statement I have made for publication since the day I was indicted. The impression has gone out that I propose to live for revenge. This is a mistake. I have no such purpose. The wrongs done to me are the wrongs of others. Vengeance is thought to be noble only by the ignoble. 'Vengeance is mine, sayeth the Lord,' is the philosophy to which I have always subscribed in the past, and to which I shall adhere in the future.

"I am a thousand times more solicitous that I shall not wrong another than I am concerned about the wrongs others have done or may do to me. In saying this, however, I do not pretend to have more than two cheeks. Nor do I think that it is wrong to rebuke hypocrisy.

"I shall have charge of a newspaper unless there is a fraud order issued against it before I can arrange for its publication. It will reflect my ideas. It is to be one of the agencies in the work I hope to do. I shall talk when I am not writing and shall write when I am not talking. The history of my case, already prepared, will appear in serial form, first, in the paper. The story will not be sensational. It will be truthful. Interwoven with the history, and a necessary part of it, will be a discussion of certain conditions in our legislative, administrative and judicial government that, I think, have escaped the attention of the average citizen.

"J. R. BURTON."

Accompanied by Mrs. Burton and his niece, Miss Dorothy Mitchell, Burton departed for St. Louis, en route to Abilene, Kan.

BRIDGE BUILDERS INDICTED.

Accused at Freeport of Forming Trust and of Bribery.

Freeport, Ill.—An alleged pooling arrangement whereby a dozen bridge companies combined, it is said, and allotted certain territory to each other, resulted Wednesday in the returning of several indictments by a grand jury.

William H. Shons, a wealthy bridge builder of Freeport, was indicted on several counts on a charge of being in a conspiracy to prevent competition. There is also a bribery indictment against Shons and his brother Homer, who is connected with the same establishment. Several bridge companies, including a big concern at Clinton, Ia., and a man who lives at Madison, Wis., and two road commissioners who are on the board that let a $12,000 contract to W. H. Shons, also were indicted.

PORTLAND TO HAVE PROBE.

Graft in the Oregon City Will Be Investigated.

Portland, Ore.—The Oregonian says $50,000 is being raised as an investigation fund to bring Francis J. Heney and Special Agent Burns to Portland to probe into the local municipal graft. Transactions for years back and up to the present will be examined under the searchlight of the investigators. The nature of the transactions which the investigators wish brought to light is not specified.

Turks Kidnap English Boy.

Salonika, European Turkey.—Robert Abbott, the son of a well-to-do British subject, was kidnaped Sunday from his father's garden, which is in the immediate vicinity of the British consulate general.

Stevens Steps Out April 1.

Washington.—Secretary Taft announced Friday that Lieut. Col. Goethals would succeed Mr. Stevens as chairman of the isthmian canal commission and engineer in charge of the canal work on April 1.

Plead Guilty to Corruption.

Freeport, Ill.—James Shippee and William Cole, highway commissioners, indicted for being interested in a bridge contract that they had a part in letting, pleaded guilty and were fined $200 and costs.

BLOOD FLOWS IN MOLDAVIA

SCORES OF PEASANTS KILLED IN FIGHTS WITH TROOPS.

Thousands of Jews Flee to Austria—Towns and Farms Devastated by Angry Mobs.

Vienna. — The seriousness of the situation in northern Moldavia, growing out of the agrarian disorders, according to the latest telegraphic reports reaching here from Czernowitz, on the border, has not been exaggerated.

From the estimates of the damages, made Friday night, it appear that 400 farms in Moldavia have been devastated, 8,000 fugitives have fled over the Roumanian frontier into Austria, and a total of 10,000 Jews are homeless.

The number of dead and wounded cannot be given accurately, but the reports give a total of about 85 men killed, and in the neighborhood of 150 wounded. The outbreak seems to have been partly suppressed.

On Thursday 500 peasants tried to invade Michalleni. Some of the soldiers fired, against orders. This volley killed 15 of the rioters and wounded 45, whereupon the peasants withdrew.

A more successful attack was made at Vasiui, to the south of Jassy. Here a body of 2,000 peasants forced their way into the town. The prefect of Vasiui did not have sufficient troops at his command to stop the onward march of the infuriated countrymen. He stood by a helpless witness while the rioters, in an incredibly short space of time, plundered practically all the buildings on the three principal streets of Vasiui and then set them on fire. The peasants had looted freely, and the fire completed the work of destruction.

The prefect sent in a hurried appeal for reinforcements and the peasants, in ignorance of this step, remained in the town until the soldiers arrived. There then ensued a serious fight up and down the burned streets. The soldiers came out victorious, but 20 rioters were killed and many were wounded.

All the buildings in the villages of Halancesti, Herlesti, Holcisteni and Ninelusen were demolished and the villages are now nothing more than heaps of ruins.

The most serious fight of Friday occurred near Piatra, 60 miles southwest of Jassy. Several thousand peasants marched against this town, where an entire regiment of infantry was stationed. The soldiers charged the peasants with fixed bayonets. The peasants replied with rifle and revolver fire, and then the troops began shooting back. The fighting lasted over an hour before the rioters retreated. They had 43 men killed, 67 wounded and 250 of their number were carried off prisoners by the soldiers. The troops had eight men killed and 27 wounded.

BIG FIRE IN PINE BLUFF, ARK.

Lumber Plant and Residences Burn—Dynamite Is Used.

Pine Bluff, Ark.—Fire late Friday swept over the entire plant of the Bluff City Lumber company and destroyed several small dwellings owned by the company. The loss is estimated at from $700,000 to $750,000.

When the fire started in the boiler room of the lumber plant the entire fire department responded but it was soon apparent that the water pressure was not sufficient to subdue the flames. The fire spread rapidly and several cottages in the immediate vicinity of the plant were razed by the use of dynamite.

The Bluff City Lumber company is one of the largest concerns in Pine Bluff and large quantities of lumber was stacked in the yards. This was destroyed or badly damaged.

SPORTING GOODS BURNED.

Spalding & Bros.' Chicago Store Destroyed by Fire.

Chicago. — Fire in the store of A. G. Spalding & Bros. Sunday afternoon destroyed sporting goods said to be worth $350,000, just at the opening of the baseball season. Loss on the stock was total. The building, at 147 and 149 Wabash avenue, is practically in ruins. It was valued at $50,000.

The Windsor-Clifton hotel was in danger for a time, and Miss Elizabeth Jordan, the hotel telephone girl, remained at her post and called each guest down to the office.

Negro Lynched in Alabama.

Florence, Ala.—The negro, Cleveland Harding, who attempted to assault Mrs. Bea Rice near here Friday and who was driven off by Mrs. Rice's shepherd dog, was summarily executed Sunday by his intended victim's husband and some 200 or 300 sympathizers. Tied to a tree with his arms up, the negro was riddled with bullets, the first shot being fired by Rice.

Big Fire in Minersville, Pa.

Pittsville, Pa.—Fire Sunday destroyed the brewery of the Union Brewing company, and the tenement houses of Thomas Wigmore, William Jones, George Reese and W. K. Shissler, at Minersville, entailing a loss of $100,000.

Hueston Still Pool Champion.

New York.—Thomas Hueston, of St. Louis, retains the world's continuous pool championship as the result of the final night's play with Jerome Keogh, of Buffalo.

"WALTZ ME AROUND AGAIN, WILLIE."

HONDURAS IS DEFEATED

NICARAGUANS TAKE CHOLUTECA AND BONILLA FLEES.

War Now Practically Ended—Fall of Tegucigalpa Is Expected to Occur at Once.

Managua, Nicaragua.—Santos Ramirez, director general of telegraphs and telephones, Sunday made the following statement:

"The Nicaraguan forces have captured Choluteca, Honduras, which was held by the Honduran and Salvadorean troops, and President Bonilla has fled by boat. Steamers will pursue the fugitive president. I believe the war is ended."

The government is without further advices concerning the capture of Choluteca, but details are expected shortly. Choluteca is the most strongly fortified town of Honduras. It is on the Choluteca river, about three miles from the gulf of Fonseca. It was here, some years ago, that ex-President Vasquez was defeated by allied revolutionists and Nicaraguans.

Washington.—President Bonilla has fled from the battlefield and the Central American war has practically ended, according to cable dispatches received in Washington Sunday by the Nicaraguan minister, Mr. Corea. The fall of the Honduras capital, Tegucigalpa, Monday, is predicted by the Nicaraguan secretary of foreign affairs, Mr. James.

The cablegram from the secretary of foreign affairs follows:

"Choluteca taken. Salvadorean and Honduran combined armies defeated. President Bonilla hidden in San Lorenzo with 200 men. Sent steamers to capture them. Tegucigalpa will be taken to-morrow."

Gen. Romirez, director general of telegraphs and telephones sends this message:

"It is my opinion that the war is terminated. Bonilla has fled from Choluteca to sail."

CONFLAGRATION IN IRONTON.

Flames Destroy Lumber Plant and Several Fine Homes.

Ironton, Ohio. — One of the most disastrous fires in years visited Ironton Friday causing a loss of nearly $100,000 and leaving several prominent families homeless for the time being.

The fire broke out in the plant of the Ironton Lumber company at noon, and when discoveed the whole plant was in a blaze. It was completely destroyed, causing a loss of at least $40,000, but the great piles of lumber adjoining were saved.

Within ten minutes of the time that the fire alarm was sounded for the lumber mill fire, another alarm was turned in from Fifth street, five blocks back of the mill, where a frame stable was in flames, having caught from the blazing flakes of rubberoid roofing, carried by a high wind which was raging at the time. Almost immediately several residences caught fire, and those of W. P. Lewis, Fred Honschell, H. H. Campbell, Mat Anderson, John B. Stroebel, and Leonard Hoffman were destroyed.

STUDENTS DIE IN A WRECK.

Six Killed in Rail Collision at Los Angeles, Cal.

Los Angeles, Cal.—A special train on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railway, carrying scores of students home from an intercollegiate field meet at Claremont, collided head-on with the out-bound limited, No. 2, on the same road while both trains were moving at a rapid rate, within the city limits here Saturday night. Six persons were killed and 17 injured, several of them fatally.

Both engines, one of the baggage cars on the Overland Limited and the smoker on the special were demolished. The crash was terrific and was heard many blocks away from the scene.

The railroad officials indicate that the accident was due to disobedience of orders on the part of the engineer, Kelly, of the limited train. Kelly has admitted that he received written orders to stop his train at a tower 200 yards before reaching the scene of the collision. The engineer stated that he "had not had time to read his orders before pulling out of the station."

SOUNDS KNELL OF ARMOR.

Hudson Maxim Tells of Wonderful Detonating Fuse.

New York.—The doom of the modern steel armored battleship is sealed. So says Hudson Maxim, the inventor of explosives.

Mr. Maxim announced Friday night that after ten years of experimenting he had perfected a safety detonating fuse.

By this fuse a steel shell can be sent clear through the armor of a battleship or cruiser and made to explode at exactly the distance behind the armor desired by the gunner. It doesn't matter whether the armor is one inch or 12 inches thick.

Mr. Maxim declares that his device marks the final victory of the steel shell over steel armor.

He made his announcement at a dinner given by the Canadian club to Sir Percy Sanderson.

AMERICAN MARINES LANDED.

Country's Interests in Three Honduran Ports Are Protected.

Washington.—Bluejackets and marines have been landed from the United States gunboat Marietta at Trujillo and Seiba and probably at Puerto Cortez, Honduras, in order to protect American interests in those ports. Advices to this effect were received Thursday at the navy department from Commander Fullam of the Marietta, and they were at once transmitted to the state department.

Joint intervention by Mexico and the United States in the war which threatens to involve Central America is now regarded as probable by diplomatists.

TAINTED HASH KILLS VETERAN.

One Death from Wholesale Poisoning in Leavenworth Soldiers' Home.

Leavenworth, Kan.—One death resulted Sunday among the 900 old soldiers at the National Soldiers' home here who were poisoned Saturday by eating tainted hash. The victim was William J. Cook, aged 64 years, a member of the Fourteenth Missouri cavalry. He leaves a widow at Mexico, Mo. About 75 veterans are still in a serious condition, but it is not thought any of these will die.

Wages Good "Smellers" Earn.

There are several trades which provide men and women with good living simply because they enjoy an exceptionally keen sense of smell, says the London World. Scentmakers, for example, need some one with a very delicate sense of smell to aid them in mixing the ingredients of perfumes in proper proportions. Queen Alexandra's favorite perfume — violet — costs £10 per ounce bottle, and it has to run the gauntlet of five professional "smellers" before it is passed as being correctly blended and ready for her majesty's use.

Some of the leading firms of perfume makers pay their "smellers" from £4 to £7 a week. Contractors for the lighting of streets, large public buildings and pleasure grounds very often engage "smellers" to find escapes of gas, one shilling being generally paid for each escape reported. Some of these men frequently make over £3 in a single week, the result being that in many cases the fee has been reduced to 9d. per escape reported.

FIFTEEN YEARS OF ECZEMA.

Terrible Itching Prevented Sleep—Hands, Arms and Legs Affected—Cuticura Cured in 6 Days.

"I had eczema nearly fifteen years. The affected parts were my hands, arms and legs. They were the worst in the winter time, and were always itchy, and I could not keep from scratching them. I had to keep both hands bandaged all the time, and at night I would have to scratch though the bandages as the itching was so severe, and at times I would have to tear everything off my hands to scratch the skin. I could not rest or sleep. I had several physicians treat me but they could not give me a permanent cure nor even could they stop the itching. After using the Cuticura Soap, one box of Cuticura Ointment and two bottles of Cuticura Resolvent for about six days the itching had ceased, and now the sores have disappeared, and I never felt better in my life than I do now. BUTTON THEIR OWN WAISTS.

New York Women Have Surmounted Great Obstacle.

Marvelous as it may seem, New York women have lately discovered a way of fastening their waists up the back without calling for assistance. Thought not lacking in generosity, they became so tired of the outstretched palm of the chambermaids that they now feel that it is time to guard their pockets. The Gotham woman discovered that if she put her blouse on hind side before, with the sleeves hanging free, it could be fastened from top to bottom, with the exception of the hooks at the neck, and then turned around and the arms slipped into the sleeves without unduly straining the fastenings. So simple! So strange that no one had thought of it before. Or is it possible other women have used the plan and meanly kept it to themselves? Will the waist that buttons in the back now have a new lease of life?

Poor Paint is Expensive

If one is rich enough to repaint his buildings every year for the pleasure of having a change of color scheme, the quality of the paint used may cut little figure. But if it is desirable to cut the painting bills down to the least amount possible per year, it is of the utmost importance that the paint be made of Pure White Lead and the best of Linseed Oil. There are imitations in the form of alleged White Lead, and there are substitutes in the form of ready-prepared paints.

We guarantee our White Lead to be absolutely pure, and the Dutch Boy on the side of every keg is your safeguard. Look for him.

TWO YEARS IN BED

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cured Stubborn Rheumatism When Other Treatment Gave No Relief.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been curing the most stubborn cases of rheumatism for nearly a generation and thousands of grateful patients have given testimony that cannot be ignored.

Robert Odbert, a machinist, living at 201 Cameron Street, Detroit, Mich., had a very distressing experience with rheumatism for about two years. He makes the following statement: "About the year 1887 I felt the effects of rheumatism which gradually grew worse until I was compelled to give up work for a time. The years of '97 and '98 I was confined to my bed most of the time. I was under doctors' treatment but found no relief. My legs were swollen from the hips downward and red blotches appeared all over them. Frequently they pained me so that I had to bind them tightly with strips of linen. This sometimes relieved the pain but at other times failed to do so. At times I had to crawl to my work, using two crutches. During these spells I suffered greatly from pain around my heart which I attributed to the rheumatism.

"At last my mother wrote me and asked me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I did and in a short time I found myself getting better and have had no trouble since. I may here add that I consider myself perfectly cured. I have not had the least sign of the disease since and feel better now than I ever did. For these reasons I recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to any one affected the same as I was."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent by mail, postpaid on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

CAPITAL IS CAPTURED

TEGUCIGALPA IS OCCUPIED BY NICARAGUAN FORCES.

BONILLA WILL NOT QUIT

Reorganizes the Honduran Army and Prepares for Prolonged Resistance—Detail of Taking of Choluteca.

Washington.—Senor Corea, the Nicaraguan minister, received a dispatch Monday night from President Zelaya of Nicaragua announcing the capture and occupation of Tegucigalpa, the capital of Honduras.

President Bonilla of Honduras has reorganized his army and intends to make a prolonged resistance to the Nicaraguan forces. This news reached the state department late Monday from Phillip R. Brown, secretary to the American legation to Honduras and Guatemala, who is now at Tegucigalpa.

Negotiations for peace in Central America are being carried on with great earnestness in Washington. Mr. Creel, the Mexican ambassador, and Mr. Corea, the Nicaraguan minister, both called at the state department Monday to discuss the Central American war with Mr. Root, and although Mexico and the United States have not as yet found a way to restore harmony among the warring republics, it is believed that an arbitration will be effected in a short time.

Managua, Nicaragua.—A few details of the capture of the Honduran-Salvadorean position at Choluteca by the Nicaraguan forces have been received. The Nicaraguans took quantities of field equipment. The Hondurans and Salvadoreans had 200 men killed and about an equal number wounded.

Some of the Nicaraguan wounded who were captured by the enemy before President Bonilla fled are reported to have been hanged and their bodies barbarously mutilated.

President Zelaya has issued orders to the Nicaraguan forces that all wounded prisoners are to be treated with proper care.

Puerto Cortez, Honduras, via New Orleans.—News of the sacking of San Marcos, Honduras, under pitiful circumstances, an account of a fresh revolt in the interior of Honduras and information of considerable financial loss to American interests because of the war have been received here.

MORTON SALT BLOCK BURNS.

Great Structure in Hutchinson, Kan., Destroyed—Loss, $500,000.

Hutchinson, Kan.—The Morton Salt block, the largest in the world owned chiefly by Joy Morton and Paul Morton, former secretary of the navy, was destroyed by fire Monday night. The loss embraced a new $250,000 addition to the plant and a vast quantity of refined salt, and may reach $500,000.

The fire started from the explosion of a coal oil lamp. Crude oil was burned in the furnaces, and in some way the fire was quickly communicated from the boiler room to other parts of the building. A strong southwest wind fanned the flames and caused them to spread rapidly. In a few days the new quarter-million-dollar addition to the plant would have begun the manufacture of salt by the vacuum process. A battery of eight of the largest oil burners ever constructed had been installed for the operation of this part of the plant.

LIABILITY ACT IS UPHELD.

Federal Judge Speer Declares New Law Is Constitutional.

Macon, Ga.—United States Judge Emory Speer Monday in a decision in the case of Lucy Snead, administratrix, against the Central of Georgia Railway company, upheld the constitutionality of the employers' liability act, passed by the last congress.

This decision is opposed to those of United States Judge Evans at Louisville, and Judge McCall at Memphis, who declared the act repugnant to the constitution of the United States. Judge Speer declared that to command, to prohibit and to protect men engaged in the handling of commerce, whether interstate or foreign, is within the domain of national legislative regulation.

CLAIMS TO CURE ALL ILLS.

Scotch Minister Announces Discovery of Remarkable Germicide.

A claim of an astounding nature is put forward by a minister whose field of work lies within the bounds of the city of Glasgow, Scotland. He has discovered a germicide by the application of which he can cure every kind of infectious, loathsome, and incurable disease, even when considered, humanly speaking, hopeless. He has demonstrated to his own satisfaction that hospitals for infectious diseases are quite unnecessary, and that surgical operations except on the battlefield or in railway or other accidents, are totally uncalled for. No operation is needed, according to him, for appendicitis, for example, as it can be perfectly well cured by the germicide. The discoverer of the germicide has published a list of the names of 50 patients, with their addresses, whom he says he has cured, or is in process of curing, even in some cases, after they had received their "death warrant" from medical practitioners.

DURING THIS MONTH.

Excellent Advice Which Our Readers Will Benefit By.

Now is the time to get the rheumatic poisons and foul acids from the blood and system, states an eminent authority, who says that Rheumatism and Kidney trouble are caused by the blood, which often becomes sour from excessive acids, and also tells what to do to make it pure and healthy.

Get from any good prescription pharmacy one-half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Kargon, three ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Mix by shaking in a bottle and take a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime.

Just try this simple blood cleaner and tonic at the first sign of Rheumatism, or if your back aches or you feel that the Kidneys are not acting right. Any one can easily prepare this mixture at home.

Varnish Secret Lost.

The Cremona varnish disappeared about 1760, and so far the recipe has not been rediscovered. Whether it was a gum or an oil or a distillation from some plant or a chemical is not known, nor how it was mixed. Many theories regarding it have been advanced from time to time, and Dod, who died in 1830, claimed to have rediscovered it. He employed others to make his violins, but always varnished them himself. His varnish is very superior, and his violins command high prices. The varnishing and polishing of a violin are done usually by a woman. It requires time and practice, for the finest instruments are gone over as often as 30 times.—March Circle.

New Danger for Burglars.

A phonographic device that will call the police by telephone adds a new hazard to the dangers of the burglar's profession. When an attempt is made to force a window or door with which the proper connections have been made an electric current operates a phonograph in the garret. The machine calls up central and asks for the police station. The phonograph then informs the officers of the robbery, giving street and number, and repeats this information as long as the receiver is down. Meantime, the intruder, all unconscious that an alarm has been rung in, virtually walks into a trap, and if the call is promptly responded to is soon in the lockup.

Statesman's Simple Life.

Herr Bebel, perhaps the most impressive orator in the German reichstag, usually speaks without notes of any kind, thinking as he goes. Not even well off, he leads the simplest of lives, shunning society and finding his chief recreation in the cultivation of flowers. He told an interviewer once that when he wants to get ready for a speech he goes into his little garden and trims the rose trees.

GOOD NATURED AGAIN.

Good Humor Returns with Change to Proper Food.

"For many years I was a constant sufferer from indigestion and nervousness amounting almost to prostration," writes a Montana man.

"My blood was impoverished, the vision was blurred and weak, with moving spots before my eyes. This was a steady daily condition. I grew ill-tempered, and eventually got so nervous I could not keep my books posted, nor handle accounts satisfactorily. I can't describe my sufferings.

"Nothing I ate agreed with me, till one day I happened to notice Grape-Nuts in a grocery store and bought a package, out of curiosity to know what it was.

"I liked the food from the very first, eating it with cream, and now I buy it by the case and use it daily. I soon found that Grape-Nuts food was supplying brain and nerve force as nothing in the drug line ever had done or could do.

"It wasn't long before I was restored to health, comfort and happiness. Through the use of Grape-Nuts food my digestion had been restored, my nerves are steady once more, my eyesight is good again, my mental faculties are clear and acute, and I have become so good-natured that my friends are truly astonished at the change. I feel younger and better than I have for 20 years. No amount of money would induce me to surrender what I have gained through the use of Grape-Nuts food." OVER $1,000 A YEAR AND "LIVING."

That Is the Story of a Michigan Farmer Who Lives in Western Canada.

Olds, Alberta, Dec. 10, 1906.

Mr. M. V. McInnes, Detroit, Michigan:

Dear Sir and Friend—It will be four years next May since I came to Olds, and have lived here ever since.

Since I came here wheat has run from 25 to 45 bu. per acre, oats from 65 to 115, that I know of. I raised that last year, 115 bu. to the acre of the finest oats I ever saw, and oats that I sowed 31st day of May this year went 72½ to the acre and weighed 41 lbs. to the bushel. My barley went 40 bu. last year and 50 this year, and was not sown until the latter part of May. I had 3 acres of potatoes this year and sold 700 bushels and put 275 bu. in the cellar, and no bugs to pick.

We have a fine Government Creamery at Olds. Our cows made $41 per head and I didn't feed any grain; only prairie hay, so you see we are doing well. We have the patent for our homestead now and am very thankful that we came to Alberta. We have made a little over $1,000 each year besides making our living. I would not go back to Michigan to live for anything. If I had my choice of a ticket to Olds or a 40-acre farm in Michigan I would take the ticket and in two years I could buy any of them 40-acre farms. This is the country for a poor man, as well as a man with money.

I will close, thanking you for our prosperity, I remain yours truly,

(Signed) OTTO YETTING,

Olds, Alberta, Canada. Box 159.

FOUND HE COULD MAKE TIME.

One Call for Physician That Met with Quick Response.

Life is such a constant rush to a well-known physician that to secure a little recreation he has recourse to ruses. A visitor called one night, and began a speech to the servant:

"I want the doctor to come over as quickly as he can."

"He can't do it!" the servant answered. "He left orders that he was so busy that unless it was absolutely a matter of life and death he couldn't go out at all this evening."

"But," said the caller, "it isn't illness at all."

"What then?"

"We want him to come over and take a hand in a game of whist."

"Oh, that's different."

The servant disappeared, and reappeared a moment later.

"The doctor says he'll be over in ten minutes, sir," he announced.

"And yet you have the cheek to call again?"

"Oh, yes, sir. You see football is now out of season."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

MAN OF DELICATE NERVES.

Rosenthal, the Pianist, Made Much Trouble in Hotel.

Rosenthal, the pianist, is one of those entitled to have his crankiness termed "the eccentricities of genius," says the San Francisco Chronicle. When he inspected his rooms at the Majestic upon his arrival very late the other night, he went softly to the adjoining doors, and placing his ears close to the cracks, exclaimed in broken English, "Zgodd, no sounds pass thoes." After nodding his approval of the grand piano and the furniture he frowned at the tan-colored window shades. "Must be green." He was assured that a change would be made especially for him the next day.

At five o'clock in the morning Rosenthal, clad only in his pajamas, came scurrying excitedly down stairs and into the office, where the drowsy night clerk was nodding at the desk.

"Ze street cars! Noise! Must stopped! Nervous me! I cannot sleep."

The clerk hurriedly sent for Manager Gustav Mann, and Mann spent two hours telling Rosenthal funny stories in German trying to divert his mind while the clerk was upstairs squaring the mangement for waking a guest on the Gough street side and ordering him to move at once to the Sutter street side as a gas pipe had burst under the floor and had to be repaired!

PE-RU-NA A MEDICAL COMPOUND

In any medical compound as much depends upon the manner in which it is compounded as upon the ingredients used.

First, there must be a due proportion of the ingredients. Each drug in the pharmacopeia has its special action. To combine any drug with other drugs that have slightly different action, the combination must be made with strict reference to the use for which the compound is intended. The drugs may be well selected as to their efficacy, but the compound ENTIRELY SPOILED BY THE PROPORTION in which they are combined.

It takes years and years of experience to discover this proportion. There is no law of chemistry, of pharmacy, by which the exact balance of proportion can be determined. EXPERIENCE IS THE ONLY GUIDE.

In compounding a catarrh remedy Dr. Hartman has had many years' experience. In the use of the various ingredients which compose the catarrh remedy, Peruna, he has learned, little by little, how to harmonize the action of each ingredient, how to combine them into a stable compound, how to arrange them into such nice proportions as to blend the taste, the operation and the chemical peculiarities of each several ingredient in order to produce a pharmaceutical product beyond the criticism of doctors, pharmacists or chemists.

WE REPEAT, THAT AS MUCH DEPENDS ON THE WAY IN WHICH THE DRUGS ARE COMBINED AS DEPENDS UPON THE DRUGS THEMSELVES.

The compound must present a stability which is not affected by changes of temperature, not affected by exposure to the air, not affected by age. It must be so combined that it will remain just the same whether used in the logging or mining camps of the northwest or the coffee plantations of the tropics.

A complete list of the ingredients of Peruna would not enable any druggist or physician to reproduce Peruna. It is the skill and sagacity by which these ingredients are brought together that give Peruna much of its peculiar claims as an efficacious catarrh remedy.

However much virtue each ingredient of Peruna may possess, the value of the compound depends largely upon the manner and proportion in which they are combined. The right ingredients, put together rightly, is the only way a medical compound can be made of real value.

ALL WOMEN SUFFER

from the same physical disturbances, and the nature of their duties, in many cases, quickly drift them into the horrors of all kinds of female complaints, organic troubles, ulceration, falling and displacements, or perhaps irregularity or suppression causing backache, nervousness, irritability, and sleeplessness.

Women everywhere should remember that the medicine that holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female ills is made from simple native roots and herbs. For more than thirty years it has been helping women to be strong, regulating the functions perfectly and overcoming pain. It has also proved itself invaluable in preparing for child-birth and the Change of Life.

Mrs. A. M. Hagermann, of Bay Shore, L. I., writes:—Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—"I suffered from a displacement, excessive and painful functions so that I had to lie down or sit still most of the time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me a well woman so that I am able to attend to my duties. I wish every suffering woman would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and see what relief it will give them."

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female illness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. for advice She is the Mrs. Pinkham who has been advising sick women free of charge for more than twenty years, and before that she assisted her mother-in-law Lydia E. Pinkham in advising. Therefore she is especially well qualified to guide sick women back to health.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

There is a strong suspicion that there was at least one Teddy bear among those operating in Wall Street.

A number of Pittsburg corporations are able to report quite as much water in their cellars as there is in their stocks.

With the approach of the baseball season, the office boy will lay in a fresh supply of grandmothers to have funerals for.

President Roosevelt is preparing to take his vacation just about the time it is getting open season for railroad presidents.

A scientist announces that a year on Mars consists of 600 days. Should think bill collectors would starve to death up there.

Wonder what some of those alienists would say about Harry Thaw's insanity if the relatives forgot to pay them their fee?

Astronomers announce that we are going bump into the tail of a comet. But it is something of a relief to see that the collision is fixed for April 1st.

The Bureau of Animal Industry says there are 23,000,000 horses in the country. And with all those to choose from, we usually pick the wrong one.

Postmaster General Von Myers says, "Conditions have greatly improved since I left St. Petersburg." Wonder if he thought how that sounded when he said it.

Col. Wm. Jennings Bryan is reputed to be a millionaire. Let's see, was it not Mr. Bryan a few years ago who said that no man could make a million dollars honestly?

Dispatches say that the President of Honduras has gone to war in an automobile. And yet they claim that South America revolutions are harmless amusements.

Those Paris lawyers have not yet succeeded in making Anna Gould pay $175,000 for her divorce, and they probably won't so long as they can't force her to replevin the count.

Speaker Cannon made a particular study of the Gatun Dam while in Panama. He is an expert in almost every other variety and he might as well add Gatun to his vocabulary.

Father Dowie promised on dying that he would not come back for 1,000 years. But that still leaves some of us in doubt as to where we would prefer to go till he is safe back here.

A Chicago paper has carried this advertisement for some days: "Come back and all will be forgiven, J. W." The chief of the Secret Service is named John Wilkie. Wonder if it refers to that subtreasury affair.

A disgruntled contemporary says, "Roosevelt's third term 'No' sounds fainter and fainter each time." Yes, and if he has to repeat it much oftener, he will need throat lozenges to make those outlanders hear it at all.

A Connecticut paper tells of a place in the state where fishermen are scooping fish out of the streams with shovels. Don't it strike our contemporary that it is a little early in the season for that sort of literature from that latitude?

Few people in all probability recognize the vast importance of the action taken by the President last week in appointing the "waterways commission." It has been the habit to refer the to River and Harbors bill when one was passed by Congress as a sort of legalized steal, not exactly a criminal pilfering of the public funds, but still the appropriation of an immense sum of money more for the good it will do in clamorous constituencies than for the actual public service that would be returned for the money. This has been too nearly the case. There has been an immense amount of money spent in river and harbor improvement and it has done some good, but its application was too scattered and irregular to get anything like an adequate return. Now however that the President has taken the matter in hand and there is a good commission appointed to look after the work in a comprehensive way, one can expect some tangible results. The members of the commission are themselves all good men. Senator Warner and Representative Burton are experienced and honest. Gen. McKenzie is one of the best engineers in the country, and has had a large experience in waterway work. F. H. Newell, another member of the commission, is the director of the reclamation service, and while he has not had any practicular experience in the rivers of the east, there probably is not a man in the country who has a more intimate knowledge of the rivers west of the Mississippi. W. J. McGee, the other member of the commission, is an archeologist and a geographer of international repute, though of what particular qualification for the work of the commission is yet to be proved. Anyhow, the commission has an immense work before it, and has a chance to do something of inestimable benefit to the country.

"In 1897 I had a stomach disease. Some physicians said dyspepsia, some consumption. One said I would not live until spring. For four years I existed on boiled milk, soda biscuits and doctors' prescriptions. I could not digest anything I ate; then I picked up one of your almanacs and it happened to be my life-saver. I bought a fifty cent bottle of Kodol and the benefit I received from that bottle all the gold in Georgia could not buy. In two months I went back to my work, as a machinist, and in three months I was well and hearty. May you live long and prosper."—C. N. Cornell, Roding, Ga., 1906. The above is only a sample of the great good that is daily done everywhere by Kodol For Dyspepsia. It is sold here by J. H. Swan.

Saved Her Son's Life.

The happiest mother in the little town of Ava, Mo., is Mrs. S. Ruppee. She writes: "One year ago my son was down with such serious lung trouble that our physician was unable to help him; when, by our druggist's advice I began giving him Dr. King's New Discovery, and I soon noticed improvement. I kept this treatment up for a few weeks when he was perfectly well. H has worked steadily since at carpenter work. Dr. King's New Discovery saved his life." Guaranteed best cough and cold cure by J. H. Swan Druggist, 50 cents and $1.00 Trial bottle free.

Mortality Among Children.

Of every ten children born in England and Wales, only seven reach the age of 20. In France only one-half of the children born reach that age, and Ireland shows a still more deplorable record.

Found at Last.

J. A. Harmon, of Lizemore, West Va., says: "At last I have found the perfect pill that never disappoints me; and for the benefit of others afflicted with torpid liver and chronic constipation, will say: take Dr King's New Life Pills." Guaranteed satisfactory. 25c at J. H. Swan's, druggist.

The Witness of Age.

God has arranged a series of tests along one's path which brings out to view the principles which really govern us. By the time we reach old age, if not before, these many crucibles through which our spirits are called to pass have removed all doubt as to whose we are and whom we love. —Sherlock Bristol.

The News—No Pure Drug Cough Cure Laws would be needed, if all cough cures were like Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure is—and has been tor 20 years. The National Law now requires that if any poisons enter into a cough mixture, it must be printed on the label or package. For this reason mothers and others should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison-marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and see. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Simply refuse to accept any other. Sold by all dealers.

Good for the Hair.

Where the hair is dry and brittle, with a tendency to fall out, an English restorative is the simple one of a free application of pure cocoanut oil. This treatment, continued for a few weeks—six, perhaps—will accomplish excellent results.

CATARRH

To prove unquestionably, and beyond any doubt that Catarrh of the nose and throat can be cured, I am furnishing patients through druggists, small free Trial Boxes of Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure. I do this because I am so certain, that Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure will bring actual substantial help. Nothing certainly, is so convincing as a physical test of any article of real, genuine merit. But that article must possess true merit, else the test will condemn, rather than advance it. Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure is a snow white, healing antiseptic balm, put up in beautiful nickel capped glass jars at 50c. Such soothing agents as Oil Eucalyptus, Thymol, Menthol, etc., are incorporated into a velvety, cream like Petrolatum, imported by Dr. Shoop from Europe. If Catarrh of the nose and throat has extended to the stomach, then by all means also use internally, Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Stomach distress, a lack of general strength, bloating, belching, biliousness, bad taste, etc. surely call for Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

For uncomplicated catarrh only of the nose and throat nothing else, however, need be used but

SURF RIDING IS ROYAL SPORT.

How the Honoluians Toboggan for Half a Mile on One Wave.

At Waikiki, near Honolulu, is a famous bathing beach. Here, winter and summer, the surf canoes, or better yet, the surf boards, come dancing in on the long rollers and men become amphibious.

There is no sensation quite comparable, says the Travel Magazine, to riding a surf board on a Pacific roller. It is tobogganing on a moving hillside of water, or, if you are clever enough to stand up on your board, it is taking this hillside on a single big ski.

The beach runs far out before it shelves into deep water, and at high tide the breakers begin to mount almost half a mile from the shore line. You go out there with your surf board and wait for the wave.

You learn to catch it at the right moment, throw your board inshore and climb upon it just as the crest of the roller mounts and catches you. Then on this crest you sail in toward the shore, to slide down at last when the wave breaks, down the foaming incline into shallow water and churning foam. It is royal sport.

Advice.

When a man succeeds through heeding the advice of others he is always inclined to think that his triumph would have been more brilliant if he had gone his own way.

A Sign.

When a woman ceases to want to be weighed every time she sees a pair of scales it is a sign that she has had to get a larger corset.

In the County Court of said Lake County, in Probate, May Term, A. D. 1907.

To Lorenzo D. Parker, the divorced husband of said Hannah Parker, deceased, and to John W. Parker, Diania Stickles and Lillie B. Bishop, heirs at law of said Hannah Parker, deceased.

You are hereby notified that on the 6th day of May, A. D. 1907, at ten o'clock A. M., or as soon thereafter as the matter can be heard, the undersigned will present to the County Court of said Lake County his final report and accounting as administrator of the estate of said decedent, and ask that the same be approved, and that he be discharged as such administrator, at which time and place you may be present if you wish.

Dated, Waukegan, Illinois, March 23rd, A. D. 1907. WILLIAM J. WHITE.

The Mischievous Beaver.

The proverbial industry of the beaver is not highly appreciated just now by the lumbermen of Maine. They assert that they are losing heavily this season through the damming of streams by this ingenious animal. The ponds thus formed have flooded hundreds of acres of timber land, making a great deal of valuable lumber quite inaccessible. In other cases good logging streams have been made useless by the diversion of a large volume of water from the regular watershed to other channels in which it is of no service. A demand will, therefore, be made at the next session of the state legislature for the repeal of the act by which the beaver is protected.

Is your baby thin, weak, fretful?

Make him a Scott's Emulsion baby.

If You Are Sick

It is because some of the organs of the body are not doing their work well. There is a lack of that nervous energy that gives them motion. Consequently you are weak, worn-out, nervous, irritable, cannot sleep; have headache, indigestion, etc. because there is not sufficient nerve force to keep the organs active and allow them to perform their natural functions. Dr. Miles' Nervine restores health because it restores this nervous energy.

"I have been sick for a year, and did not know what was the matter with me. I tried many remedies and none of them proved of any value. I heard of Dr. Miles' Nervine. I procured a bottle, and before I had taken half of it I was better. I would have had nervous prostration if I had not got this medicine when I did. I continued to take it until I was entirely well. I have since recommended it to five of my lady friends, and they have all thanked me for doing so, for it benefited them all."

MRS. ROSE OTTO,
189 S. 3d St., Columbus, Ohio.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

On Tuesday afternoon the "Alabama Nightengales" composed of the four Misses White, the colored girls, with "Mammy Smif" as chaprone, arrived in town, and in the evening made things lively for the Royal Neighbors. Their costumes were simply indescribable, the style and fit were amazing and the colors all that could be desired. Immense diamonds and other costly jewels completed their adornment. They favored the audience with songs, jests and a few fancy steps, and then served the "white folks" with refreshments. But the color seemed a little inclined to fade and before the dusky maids left some of the white ladies had turned a shade darker—perhaps from envy.

Notice.

Miss Emmert, the well known optician, will make her regular monthly visit to Antioch Thursday, April 4. She will be at the Naber Hotel. Eyes examined free whether or not glasses are bought, no one urged to buy.

Worked Like a Charm.

No inflammation followed; the salve simply healed the wound." Heals every sore, burn and skin disease. Guaranteed at J. H. Swan's, druggist. 25c.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Home of Swamp-Root.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

World Calls For Light.

How to Remain Young.

To continue young in health and strength do as Mrs. N. F. Rowan, McDonough, Ga., did. She says: "Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured me of chronic liver and stomach trouble, complicated with such an unhealthy condition of the blood that my skin turned red as flannel. I am now practically 20 years younger than before I took Electric Bitters. I can now do all my work with ease and assist in my husband's store." Guaranteed at J. H. Swan's drug store. Price 50 cents.

Notice to Tax Payers

A. B. JOHN[ay] dies a new disaster's

Missouri mules have been sent to Alaska. Reindeer will soon be looking for new positions.

The average man has from 15 to 20 pockets in his clothes, and about $2.85 in them altogether.

Japan is rather imposing on good nature by sending 631 coolies to the United States on one ship.

English ladies, it is said, are wearing nightcaps quite generally. And English gentlemen quite generally are taking them.

Another bad thing about profanity is that sometimes when a man is maddest he can't think of the most effective thing to say.

What a terrible world this world would be if we were not permitted to hire lawyers to tell us when to refuse to answer questions.

"A woman should train her husband as one trains a mule," says Carrie Catt. What an interesting sidelight this throws on Mr. Catt!

Most people will be surprised to read that there were more than 8,000,000 Bibles sold in this country last year. If they were only read!

The cause of education in the East is not to suffer. Harvard authorities have decided that the regular football course will be continued next fall.

Railroad and steamboat accidents are ghastly enough, in all conscience' name, but think what would happen if a crowded airship should go wrong!

Carrie Chapman Catt believes a woman should train her husband as one trains a mule. Mrs. Catt is right. Never sneak up on him from behind.

Consul H. J. Harvey writes from Fort Erie that the development of electric power at Niagara, Ontario, has stimulated many new industries in that district.

Consul General Church Howe, of Montreal, reports that the total immigration into Canada during 1906 was 215,912, an increase of 49 per cent. over 1905.

If the French aeronaut who has made 210 successful attempts has ever studied the law of probabilities he must realize that it is about time for him to quit.

The income of Mrs. William Astor is put down at $2,500,000 a year, but her resources are practically unlimited. She is now 76 years old and a great grandmother.

Marie Corelli says there is an invisible power which compels her to write. This will lead Hall Caine to believe that invisible powers must be possessed of unworthy tendencies.

Dr. Charles Harrington has recommended that the president extend an invitation to the coming congress of hygiene and demography at Berlin to hold its meeting at Washington in 1909 or 1910.

King Edward is busy revising the prayer book of the Church of England. There was a time when people would have doubted it if they had been told that Edward would ever take up such serious work.

Naturally, the Chicago man who has retired from business with only $5,000,000, because he "has enough," is being sharply criticised. Why doesn't he keep on working to get money to endow universities and establish educational funds and libraries?

And now the Japanese generals are assailing Kuropatkin's so-called history of the late war. The Japanese gentlemen say the story is more of a defense of himself than a statement of actual facts. And when it comes to history it must be admitted the Japanese generals made some themselves.

That this is the children's century was judicially affirmed by the supreme court of Mississippi, says the Baltimore American, which affirmed in a suit for damages brought by the parents of a boy injured by an electric light attached to a tree that the small boy in the pursuit of happiness guaranteed by the constitution has an inalienable right to climb a tree.

"Buffalo robes will soon be a thing of the past," said a local dealer to a Kansas City Star reporter, who has had six robes on sale this winter, the property of a citizen who could not afford to keep the precious skins longer. Five of them have been sold, and while $500 has been offered for the last of the lot the dealer is holding it for $600, the price demanded by the owner. The robes are not unusually large, either.

Mulberry plantations are being opened in India with a view to enlarging the propagation of the silkworm, as well as to make the mulberry gardens a distributing center from which cuttings and young plants may be distributed to the public.

"They're mamma's friends," Anita was answering. "Oldish and tiresome. When you leave I shall go straight on up to bed."

"I'd like to—to see your room—where you live," said I, more to myself than to her.

"I sleep in a bare little box," she replied with a laugh. "It's like a cell. A friend of ours who has the anti-germ fad insisted on it. But my sitting-room isn't so bad."

"Langdon has the anti-germ fad," said I.

She answered "Yes," after a pause, and in such a strained voice that I looked at her. A flush was just dying out of her face. "He was the friend I spoke of," she went on.

"You know him very well?" I asked.

"We've known him—always," said she. "I think he's one of my earliest recollections. His father's summer place and ours adjoin. And once—I guess it's the first time I remember seeing him—he was a freshman at Harvard, and he came along on a horse past the pony cart in which a groom was driving me. And I—I was very little then—I begged him to take me up, and he did. I thought he was the greatest, most wonderful man that ever lived." She laughed queerly. "When I say my prayers, I used to imagine a god that looked like him to say them to."

I echoed her laugh heartily. The idea of Mowbray Langdon as a god struck me as peculiarly funny, though natural enough, too.

"Absurd, wasn't it?" said she. But her face was grave, and she let her cigarette die out.

"I guess you know him better than that now?"

"Yes—better," she answered, slowly and absently. "He's—anything but a god!"

"And the more fascinating on that account," said I. "I wonder why women like best the really bad, dangerous sort of man, who hasn't any respect for them, or for anything."

I said this that she might protest, at least for herself. But her answer was a vague, musing, "I wonder—I wonder."

"I'm sure you wouldn't," I protested earnestly, for her.

She looked at me queerly.

"Can I never convince you that I'm just a woman?" said she mockingly. "Just a woman, and one a man with your ideas of women would fly from."

"I wish you were!" I exclaimed. "Then—I'd find it so—so impossible to give you up."

She rose and made a slow tour of the room, halting on the rug before the closed fireplace a few feet from me. I sat looking at her.

"I am going to give you up," I said at last.

Her eyes, staring into vacancy, grew larger and intenser with each long, deep breath she took.

"I didn't intend to say what I'm about to say—at least, not this evening," I went on, and to me it seemed to be some other than myself who was speaking. "Certain things happened down town to-day that have set me to thinking. And—I shall do whatever I can for your brother and your father. But you—you are free!"

She went to the table, stood there in profile to me, straight and slender as a sunflower stalk. She traced the silver chasings in the lid of the cigarette box with her forefinger; then she took a cigarette and began rolling it slowly and absently.

"Please don't scent and stain your fingers with that filthy tobacco," said I rather harshly.

"And only this afternoon you were saying you had become reconciled to my vice—that you had canonized it along with me—wasn't that your phrase?" This indifferently, without turning toward me, and as if she were thinking of something else.

"So I have," I retorted. "But my mood—please oblige me this once."

She let the cigarette fall into the box, closed the lid gently, leaned against the table, folded her arms upon her bosom and looked full at me. I was as acutely conscious of her every movement, of the very coming and going of the breath at her nostrils, as a man on the operating table is conscious of the slightest gesture of the surgeon.

"You are—suffering!" she said, and her voice was like the flow of oil upon a burn. "I have never seen you like this. I didn't believe you capable of—of much feeling."

I could not trust myself to speak. If Bob Corey could have looked in on that scene, could have understood it, how amazed he would have been!

"What happened down town to-day?" she went on. "Tell me, if I may know."

"I'll tell you what I didn't think, ten minutes ago, I'd tell any human being," said I. "They've got me strapped down in the press. At ten o'clock in the morning—precisely at ten—they're going to put on the screws," I laughed. "I guess they'll have me squeezed pretty dry before noon."

She shivered.

"So you see," I continued, "I don't deserve any credit for giving you up. I only anticipate you by about twenty-four hours. Mine's death-bed repentance."

"I'd thought of that," said she reflectively. Presently she added: "Then, it is true." And I knew Sammy had given her some hint that prepared her for my confession.

"Yes—I can't go blustering through the matrimonial market," replied I. "I've been thrown out. I'm a beggar at the gates."

"A beggar at the gates," she murmured.

I got up and stood looking down at her.

"Don't pity me!" I said. "My remark was a figure of speech. I want no alms. I wouldn't take even you as alms. They'll probably get me down, and stamp the life out of me—nearly. But not quite—don't you lose sight of that. They can't kill me, and they can't tame me. I'll recover, and I'll strew the street with their blood and broken bones."

She drew in her breath sharply.

"And a minute ago I was almost liking you!" she exclaimed.

I retreated to my chair and gave her a smile that must have been grim.

"Yes—Langdon," I replied. "But I've no quarrel with him. My reverse is nothing but the fortune of war. I assure you, when I see him again, I'll be as friendly as ever—only a bit less of a trusting ass, I fancy. We're a lot of free lances down in the street. We change sides whenever it's expedient; and under the code it's not necessary to give warning. To-day, before I knew he was the assassin, I had made my plans to try to save myself at his expense, though I believed him to be the best friend I had down town. No doubt he's got some good reason for creeping up on me in the dark."

"You are sure it was he?" she repeated.

"He, and nobody else," replied I. "He decided to do me up—and I guess he'll succeed. He's not the man to lift his gun unless he's sure the bird will fall."

"Do you really not care any more than you show?" she asked. "Or is your manner only bravado—to show off before me?"

"I don't care a damn, since I'm to lose you," said I. "It'll be a godsend to have a hard row to hoe the next few months or years."

She went back to leaning against the table, her arms folded as before. I saw she was thinking out something. Finally she said:

"I have decided not to accept your release."

I sprang to my feet.

"Anita!" I cried, my arms stretched toward her.

But she only looked coldly at me, folded her arms the more tightly and said:

"Do not misunderstand me. The bargain is the same as before. If you want me on those terms, I must—give myself."

"Why?" I asked.

A faint smile, with no mirth in it, drifted round the corners of her mouth.

"An impulse," she said. "I don't quite understand it myself. An impulse from—from——" Her eyes and her thoughts were far away, and her expression was the one that made it

"SHE BLAZED A LOOK AT ME THAT LEFT ME ROOTED THERE, ASTOUNDED."

"Your ideas of life and of men are like a cloistered nun's," said I. "If there are any real men among your acquaintances, you may find out some day that they're not so much like lapdogs as they pretend—and that you wouldn't like them, if they were."

"What—just what—happened to you down town to-day—after you left me?"

"A friend of mine has been luring me into a trap—why, I can't quite fathom. To-day he sprang the trap and ran away."

"A friend of yours?"

"The man we were talking about—your ex-god—Langdon."

"Langdon," she repeated, and her tone told me that Sammy knew and had hinted to her more than I suspected him of knowing. And, with her arms still folded, she paced up and down the room. I watched her slender feet in pale blue slippers appear and disappear—first one, then the other—at the edge of her trailing skirt. Presently she stopped in front of me. Her eyes were gazing past me.

"You are sure it was he?" she asked.

I could not answer immediately, so amazed was I at her expression. I had been regarding her as a being above and apart, an incarnation of youth and innocence; with a shock it now came to me that she was experienced, intelligent, that she understood the whole of life, the dark as fully as the light, and that she was capable to live it, too. It was not a girl that was questioning me there; it was a woman.

I thought I understood her better than she understood herself. And suddenly my passion melted in a tenderness I would have said was so foreign to me as rain to a desert. I noticed that she had a haggard look. "You are very tired, child," said I. "Good night. I am a different man from what I was when I came in here."

"And I a different woman," said she, a beauty shining from her that was as far beyond her physical beauty as—as love is beyond passion.

"A nobler, better woman," I exclaimed, kissing her hand.

She snatched it away.

"If you only knew!" she cried. "It seems to me, as I realize what sort of woman I am, that I am almost worthy of you!" And she blazed a look at me that left me rooted there, astounded.

But I went down the avenue with a light heart. "Just like a woman," I was saying to myself cheerfully, "not to know her own mind."

A few blocks, and I stopped and laughed outright—at Langdon's treachery, at my own credulity. "What an ass I've been making of myself!" said I to myself. And I could see myself as I really had been during those months of social struggling—an ass, braying and gamboling in a lion's skin—to impress the ladies!

But not wholly to no purpose," I reflected, again all in a glow at thought of Anita.

XVIII.

A WINDFALL FROM "GENTLEMAN" JOE.

I went to my rooms, purposing to go straight to bed, and get a good sleep. I did make a start toward undressing; then I realized that I should only lie awake with my brain wearing me out, spinning crazy thoughts and schemes hour after hour—for my imagination rarely lets it do any effective thinking after the lights are out and the limitations of material things are wiped away by the darkness.

I dressed myself again and went out—went up to Joe Healey's gambling place in Forty-fourth street. Most of the well-known gamblers up town, as well as their "respectable" down town fellow members of the fraternity, were old acquaintances of mine; Joe Healey was as close a friend as I had. He had great fame for squareness—and, in a sense, deserved it. With his fellow gamblers he was as straight as a string at all times—to be otherwise would have meant that when he went broke he would stay broke, because none of the fraternity would "stake" him. But with his patrons—being regarded by them as a pariah, he acted toward them like a pariah—a prudent pariah. He fooled them with a frank show of gentlemanliness, of honesty to his own hurt; under that cover he fleeced them well, but always judiciously.

That night, I recall, Joe's guests were several young fellows of the fashionable set, rich men's sons and their parasites, a few of the big down town operators who hadn't yet got hipped on "respectability—they playing poker in a private room—and a couple of flush-faced, flush-pursed chaps from out of town, for whom one of Joe's men was dealing faro from what looked to my experienced and accurate eye like a "brace" box.

Joe, very elegant, too elegant in fact, in evening dress, was showing a new piece of statuary to the oldest son of Melville, of the National Industrial bank. Joe knew a little something about art—he was much like the art dealers who, as a matter of business, learn the difference between good things and bad, but in their hearts wonder and laugh at people willing to part with large sums of money for a little paint or marble or the like.

As soon as Joe thought he had sufficiently impressed young Melville, he drifted him to a roulette table, left him there and joined me.

"Come to my office," said he. "I want to see you."

He led the way down the richly-carpeted marble stairway as far as the landing at the turn. There, on a sort of mezzanine, he had a gorgeous little suit. The principal object in the sitting-room or office was a huge safe. He closed and locked the outside door behind us.

"Take a seat," said he. "You'll like the cigars in the second box on my desk—the long one." And he began turning the combination lock. "You haven't dropped in on us for the past three or four months," he went on.

"No," said I, getting a great deal of pleasure out of seeing again, and thus intimately, his round, ruddy face—like a yachtman's, not like a drinker's—and his shifty, laughing brown eyes. "The game down town has given me enough excitement. I haven't had to continue it up town to keep my hand in."

"I've noticed that you are getting too swell to patronize us fellows," said he, his shrewd smile showing that my polite excuse had not fooled him. "Well, Matt, you're right—you always did have good sound sense and a steady eye for the main chance. I used to think the women'd ruin you, they were so crazy about that handsome mug and figure of yours. But when I saw you knew exactly when to let go, I knew nothing could stop you."

By this time he had the safe open, disclosing several compartments and a small, inside safe. He worked away at the second combination lock, and presently exposed the interior of the little safe. It was filled with a great roll of bills. He pried this out, brought it over to the desk and began wrapping it up. "I want you to take this with you when you go," said he. "I've made several big killings lately, and I'm going to get you to invest the proceeds."

(To be Continued.)

WAYS OF MENDING

RENTS SHOULD BE ATTENDED TO AT ONCE.

Time Saved and a Better Job Done If Delay in Necessary Work Is Avoided—Pressing of Darns When Finished.

Rents will look much better when mended if they are attended to at once, because the longer they are left the more ragged the edge becomes.

Lay the garment right side down and put the edges of the rent as close together as possible; cut a piece of tissue rather larger than the space that is torn and lay on the top.

Take a piece of thin woolen material the same size as the tissue and as near the color of the cloth as possible; lay that on top of the tissue and when placed exactly in the right position iron with a hot iron until the patch adheres to the garment. The heat will cause the tissue to dissolve, forming a kind of glue.

If the material is of light weight goods it will be best to use a patch of the same, but if the material is heavy, such as is used in men's suits or coats, a lighter patch will be much better.

A clean cut in heavy material may be mended by putting the two edges firmly together and basting them to a piece of paper on the right side. This work is done between the cloth.

Take a thread and insert the needle about three-eighths of an inch from the edge and carry it between the cloth to about half an inch the other side of the cut and draw the thread through; put the needle in where it came out and carry it to the other side about one-half an inch beyond the edge in a slightly slanting position.

Continue to do this until the whole cut is darned. Be careful not to pull too tight. Darn it in the same way in the opposite direction.

It is difficult to use this method of mending if the edges are the least bit frayed, and on thin materials it must be done with the greatest care, using the finest needle and thread possible.

All darns should be pressed when finished. To do this lay the right side down on an ironing board and on the wrong side lay a damp cloth and press with a hot iron until perfectly dry.

Baked Celery with Cheese.

Three cupfuls celery, cut into inch pieces, one cupful stale bread crumbs, three-quarters of a cupful grated cheese, one-half cupful milk, two tablespoonfuls of butter, one tablespoonful flour. Cook the celery in boiling salted water until tender, drain thoroughly and set aside half a cupful of the liquid. Melt one tablespoonful of butter, add the flour, and mix smooth, turn in the milk and the half cupful of celery liquid. Bring to a boil and cook three minutes, stirring constantly; add half a cupful of the cheese, stir until it melts, then mix in the celery, adding salt, paprika, or cayenne. Melt the remaining tablespoonful of butter and moisten the bread crumbs with it. Put the celery and crumbs into a baking dish in alternate layers, having the last layer crust, and sprinkle the remainder of the cheese over the top. Bake on the upper rack of the oven until a medium brown, and serve hot.

Ham Pie.

Cover the sides and bottom of a dish with a good paste rolled out thin. Have ready some slices of cold boiled ham (about half an inch thick) some eggs boiled hard and sliced and a large young fowl cleaned and cut up, put a layer of ham at the bottom, then the fowl, then the eggs, next another layer of ham.

Sprinkle pepper over and pour in some water or better some veal gravy. Cover the pie with crust, and bake. The addition of mushrooms is a great improvement.

Peach Shortcake.

Sift together a pint and a half of flour, two tablespoonfuls of sugar (less if preferred), two teaspoonfuls of salt. Rub in with the tips of the fingers two tablespoonfuls of butter, then add one beaten egg and milk to make a soft dough. Cut out like biscuit and bake in a quick oven. When baked split in two, spread lightly with butter and fill with the sweetened peaches from a quart can and whipped cream, a layer of peaches first and cream on top.

Pretty Fashions.

The short cap sleeves that are to be worn on jumper waists and eton jackets this spring may be slashed and fastened across with tiny black velvet bows, and the jacket fronts held together the same way.

A becoming dog collar to wear with an evening gown is made of six strands of very narrow black velvet ribbon, featherboned, and decorated with tiny jet buckles. The fastening is at the back, under a row of little bows or buckles.

Glazed Sweet Potatoes.

Select medium sized sweet potatoes, boil until done, take out and cool, remove skin. Have an egg beaten with a dash of salt and pepper, cut potatoes in half lengthwise, dip in the egg, dust with granulated sugar, arrange in a generously buttered pan, put in oven and bake until brown. Serve hot.

A Cure for Corns.

Solvine is good, and you can get it made up by your chemist. Really, though, the best way to cure corns is to remove the pressure which causes them. Get your shoemaker to stretch your shoes on his last, putting on an extra piece of leather where where the corn comes.

Illinois State News

Recent Happenings of Interest in the Various Cities and Towns.

DOUGHERTY BANK PAYS IN FULL.

Last Installment of Ten Per Cent. Is Made to Depositors.

Peoria.—The depositors of the defunct Peoria National bank, of which Newton C. Dougherty was president and which failed when his embezzlement of the school funds of the city became known, were paid the last installment of ten per cent., making 100 per cent. of the amount of their deposits. Receiver Orville F. Berry announced that an interest payment will be made before the middle of May. The receiver has made a record for the state in the payment of the depositors in full and in the innovation of the interest installment.

PAUPER, CLINGS TO TEXT-BOOKS.

Former Teacher, Who Lost All in Slot Machines, Goes to Poor Farm.

Alton.—With an armful of treasured French, Greek and Latin books, Prof. Albert C. Williams, aged 60, formerly principal of the Humboldt school, and also of the public schools at North Alton, was admitted to the Madison county poor farm. He was removed from his position as school principal five years ago. A year later his wife obtained a divorce. He became addicted to playing slot machines, and since the loss of his position has spent his savings of $12,000 in the machines and is now penniless. He has no children.

Fire at Chestervale.

Lincoln.—Ten thousand bushels of corn were burned at Chestervale, five miles south of this city. The corn was in a single crib which, it is believed, caught fire from a spark from a passing locomotive, as the Illinois Central railway passes the cribs.

Other cribbed corn to the extent of 65,000 bushels was endangered by the flames, which were held in check by the city fire department of Lincoln, which went to the scene of the fire with a chemical engine while a supply of chemicals was received from Peoria.

The firemen worked all day to save the corn and an elevator near by. The loss is said to be $5,000, and is without insurance. The property was that of Spellman & Spitly of this city.

Found Dead in a Mine.

Carlinville.—William Luedeckeer, an old resident of Mt. Olive, in this county, was found dead in mine No. 1 of that place. He was employed by the company to clean up the track during the night, it being a job suitable to his advanced age. As a rule two men went down each evening, but his partner, Edward Shultz, not feeling well, stayed at home that night. How he came to his death is not known.

Requisition Is Issued.

Springfield.—Governor Deneen issued a requisition on the governor of Indiana for the return to Chicago of Marshall Moore, who is under arrest at Nashville, Ind., on a charge of burglary. Moore is accused of breaking into the store of Charles Prevo in Chicago on March 8, last, and stealing a number of articles and a small sum of money.

Sunstroke at Belleville.

Belleville.—March 21 was the hottest day for March 21 ever known by the present generation in southern Illinois in this city. The mercury registered 96 degrees in the shade. There was one prostration, Peter Rock, aged 60, a laborer, being overcome while at work on a building. His condition is critical.

Illinois Engineers Form Society.

Chicago.—The Engineering Society of the Alumni of the University of Illinois was organized in the Monadnock block. More than 125 graduates of the engineering department of the Champaign school were present. Charles E. Sargent was elected president, and Burton French secretary-treasurer.

Killed in Dispute Over House.

McLeansboro.—John Curd was shot and fatally wounded by Charles Nicholson at a school exhibition at Buckskin school, 14 miles northeast of here and died one hour later. He leaves a widow and one child. The killing was due to an old dispute over possession of a house.

Haze at Night in Graveyard.

Kewanee.—Full of dime novel ideas, a gang of boys "captured" George Stone and carried him to a cemetery. There they tied the lad to a tombstone and were "torturing" him, when Stone, in his struggles, pulled the shaft over, falling under it. He was seriously injured.

Woman, 80, Runs Blind Tiger.

Kewanee.—Mrs. Mary Shiblouski, 80 years old, was arrested here by a United States deputy marshal, charged with running a "blind tiger" half a mile beyond the city limits. She was taken to Peoria for hearing.

Woodstock Pioneer Dead.

Woodstock.—J. C. Choate, 77 years old, a pioneer citizen, died at his residence. He started in business in Woodstock in 1857 and from that time till his death conducted a large general store

BRIDGE COMBINE MEN HIT.

Indictments Returned by Grand Jury at Freeport.

Freeport.—The greatest sensation here in years occurred when the grand jury returned indictments by the wholesale against local and foreign men who are charged with being members of what is known as the "bridge contract letting combine," an organization that, it is alleged, allots territory to each other and charges enormous prices for bridges, there being no competition in the way of bidders.

W. H. Shons, a contractor who resides here, had trouble with alleged members of the combine and, it is said, related how the alleged combine was holding up counties and receiving bridge contracts with practically no opposition. Several witnesses, it is said, gave information with the understanding they were to go free.

The main indictment embraces 62 counts. It charges conspiracy to prevent the letting of contracts by Stephenson county by means of fraudulent bids and unlawful combinations to divide the profits. The work in this county is said to be a forerunner of what may be expected in Carroll, Jo Daviss, Ogle, Whiteside and other counties.

IS ACCUSED OF MURDER.

Peoria Physician Held as Responsible for Girl's Death.

Peoria.—"We find that the said Pauline Schneider came to her death at St. Francis hospital about 6:30 o'clock a. m. March 17, 1907, from general peritonitis, caused by an operation performed by Dr. Robert Emery on or about February 28, and several succeeding dates. The jury further decides that Dr. Robert Emery be held for murder without bail until released by due course of law."

Such was the verdict rendered by the coroner's jury. It plainly fastens the guilt upon Dr. Emery and according to State's Attorney Scholes will mean that he probably will have to face a penitentiary sentence. The doctor received the news of the verdict without much show of feeling.

New Bank Organized.

Taylorville.—A new banking and trust company will begin business here in a short time. It will be incorporated at $150,000 and will take over the business of H. M. Vandeveer & Co., private bankers. The Vandeveer bank is the oldest in the city. W. T. and E. A. Vandeveer, the present owners, will retire from business, but will take a considerable part of the stock of the new concern.

S. S. Knotts, of Waggoner, will be cashier. He is at present cashier of the bank at Waggoner. He will take $20,000 of the stock.

Child's Blow Is Fatal.

Elgin.—Mrs. Anna Auble, wife of W. E. Auble, of Wayne, is dead as the result of a blow from her three-year-old son. Last summer, while Mrs. Auble was sitting in a hammock, the boy playfully picked up an old bottle and threw it at his mother, striking her on the breast bone. Late in the fall Mrs. Auble underwent an operation at the Mary Thompson hospital, Chicago. Relief was only temporary, as the wound turned into a cancer.

Child Found Intoxicated.

Chicago.—Edward Scott, nine years old, 27 Pleasant street, was found intoxicated in an alley near Oak and Sedgwick streets. The boy was so overcome by drink he could not speak for more than two hours after being taken to the station. He was later returned to his parents and a search was at once begun for the party who gave him the liquor.

Jostles Woman; Fined $1,000.

Harrisburg.—Horace Gray, a negro, was fined $1,000 and costs for pushing a white woman off the sidewalk and otherwise disturbing the peace, which came near causing a race riot and lynching. Justice J. Wise assessed the fine. George Roach, another negro, was fined $35 and costs on the same charge in Justice McKenzie's court.

Sues for Loss of Sight.

Mt. Vernon.—C. E. Pasley has filed a suit for $5,000 damages against John L. Cleveland for personal injuries while Cleveland was being initiated in the Modern Woodman lodge. He fired a revolver loaded with a blank cartridge and soap which struck Pasley in the eye, destroying its sight. Cleveland is a well known traveling man.

Denies Change of Venue.

Bloomington.—Judge Miers denied the motion for a change of venue in the case of Thomas Baldwin, charged with murdering four persons here a month ago because they were instigators of an indictment against him on a charge of assault.

Increase Capital Stock.

Springfield.—The Commonwealth Electric company of Chicago, certified to the secretary of state an increase of capital stock. From $10,000,000 the total is increased to $15,000,000

Spring.

The Time hath laid his mantle by
Of wind and rain and icy chill,
And dons a rich embroidery
Of sunlight poured on lake and hill.
No beast or bird in earth or sky,
Whose voice doth not with gladness thrill,
For Time hath laid his mantle by
Of wind and rain and icy chill.

River and fountain, brook and rill,
Bespangled o'er with livery gay
Of silver droplets, wind their way.
All in their new apparel vie,
For Time hath laid his mantle by.

HOME OF THE EASTER LILY

Flower Was Introduced Into the Islands of Bermuda by an American.

There is only one monument in the whole British colony of the Bermudas—and it is erected to the memory of an American. This fact may seem a bit strange until one has heard the story, which is really a story of the Bermuda lily, and of the man who made it possible.

Many years ago—during President Hayes' administration, in fact—Gen. Russel Hastings, who had made for himself a brilliant record during the civil war, was married in the White House at Washington. He and his bride went to Bermuda on their wedding trip, and were so charmed with the beauty of the place that they resolved then and there to return, and, if possible, to make it their permanent abode. The climate, too, appealed to them. (The general had been seriously wounded in the war, and was far from well.)

A little later the two came again. Not as tourists this time, but as homeseekers. In those days the now-existing law that none but English citizens can own land in English colonies was not in force. So General Hastings had no difficulty in acquiring a large estate. He chose a picturesque site in the little city of Hamilton, surrounding a land-locked bay. Here he built his home, "Sonci," which stands to-day among tropical trees and luxuriant flowers.

Not only did General Hastings at once become deeply interested in the place, and in the possibilities for its development, but he was genuinely distressed at the poverty of the islanders, says a writer in the Detroit Free Press. Setting about to improve matters, he studied the climatic conditions, experimented again and again, and at length his efforts were crowned with success. It was found that our present-day Easter lily, originally a native of Japan, would attain in Bermuda to a perfection of loveliness hitherto unknown. The islanders were soon pressed into service, and since about 1876 the culture of lilies has been not only their chief pride, but their chief means of livelihood as well.

Imagine a tiny group of islands, far out in the Atlantic—the largest of them about 15 miles long and not wider, at most, than a mile and a half—set beneath the bluest of blue skies, and seeming to rest on water whose transparency and brilliancy of color are unequaled anywhere. This is Bermuda, the home of the Easter lily.

* * * * * *

As the incoming boat skirts the shore, the lily fields look from a distance like white summer clouds dropped down from the sky upon the green islands. Lily fragrance fills the air and is blown by the wind far out over the water. Coming nearer you see the fields more clearly—rows upon rows of blossoms, tall, stately and snowy white. It is very beautiful.

It was not until the early '80's that the Bermuda lily became well known in the United States. It is said that a Philadelphia woman, returning from the islands, brought home a plant to bloom. This came to the attention of W. K. Harris, an enterprising florist of the Quaker city, who purchased a lot of the bulbs, from which he succeeded in raising hundreds of plants, introducing them under the name Lilium Harrisii. Thus the Easter lily industry spread to America, and to other countries as well. But nowhere do the flowers grow so perfect and beautiful as under the quickening warmth of the tropical sun of Bermuda.

Ordinarily only bulbs are exported, but at the rush season whole boat loads of cut buds and of thickly-budded plants are packed and shipped away, carrying the sweet message of the Eastertide into countless homes and churches.

General Hastings is dead. In spite of his long residence in Bermuda, he remained a devotedly loyal American citizen and from time to time concerned himself with public affairs, holding various positions of responsibility and honor. The islanders remember him as their friend and benefactor, and that they and those that come after them may not be unmindful of the debt of gratitude they owe, a beautiful monument has been recently erected in Hamilton in his memory.

I know my fate is surely sealed,
For cook, while passing near,
Smacked her lips and said to me,

An Easter Lay.

Behold! What light in yonder sky?
The angels echo in reply:
It is the Easter Dawn.
Let carols sweet ring through the air,
And flowers distil their perfume rare,
This Resurrection morn."

For Christ has risen, as He said,
Blest Saviour of the quick and dead.
Chant loud the glad refrain,
For angels rolled the stone away,
And Christ arose ere broke the day,
And evermore shall reign.

Chinese Idea of Creation.

By the Chinese it is believed that the world was formed of two parts of a great egg. From the yolk, man came forth; then he waved his hand and the upper half of the shell went upward and became the concave heavens; the lower half reversed, making the convex earth, and the white albumen became the seas

MERIT SYSTEM GOOD

COMMITTEE INDORSES THE CIVIL SERVICE ACT.

HAS PROVED ITS WORTH

Character and Efficiency of Employes Improved—Reliable Men and Women Eager to Enter Service of the State.

Springfield.—A strong indorsement of civil service in the state institutions is given in a report made by a subcommittee of the Hamilton club, appointed to investigate the working of the merit system, with special reference to the Illinois institutions.

The report has been sent to President Moulton of the state civil service commission, and printed copies of it will be distributed to the members.

In pronouncing on the state law, the report says:

"First of all there has been an improvement in the character and efficiency of the employes. Under the old systems superintendents were limited, practically speaking, to accepting those applicants for positions who came knocking at their doors, or who were foisted upon them by the exigencies of politics.

"Now the examinations of the commission are extensively advertised, and reliable men and women are led to offer their services. With all applicants coming through the commission the heads of the institutions are relieved from the burden of securing and selecting competent employes, and the executive heads are left more free to devote themselves to the administration of their respective institutions.

"As a result of this toning up of the service, the esprit de corps of all the institutions has been raised, and from a passive, jog along condition of the heads of the state institutions, the state board of charities, executive officers of the state and, it is to be hoped, the legislature, have been inspired to an attempt to make our state charitable institutions the finest in the world."

The report cites the establishment of the training school for nurses at each hospital as an example of what the commission has done in the last year in raising the standard of service efficiency. Heretofore the inmates have had no real professional nursing.

The report carries a long series of letters from heads of various state institutions, all speaking in enthusiastic commendation of the workings of the law.

Charter Waits for Election.

Chicago's charter was struck another snag in its slow progress through the legislature. Chairman Kittleman has announced there will be no more sessions of the house committee or the joint house and senate committee on charter until after the Chicago election. This announcement of further postponement for the already much delayed charter gave rise to rumors Friday that Gov. Deneen might be forced to call an extra session to pass the charter bill.

Speaker Shurtleff promptly put a damper on that story. "There will be plenty of time allowed for the consideration of the Chicago charter bill, no matter when we adjourn or how long we have to stay here," was the speaker's sturdy declaration. Chairman Lindly of the Republican steering committee in the house and Chairman Shanahan of the house appropriations committee said likewise. Both expressed themselves as confident that Chicago will get a charter before adjournment.

"Chicago Beautiful" Bills Move.

Two of the "Chicago Beautiful" bills were advanced to second reading. They are intended to permit the south park commissioners to construct the driveway on submerged lands from Jackson park to Grant park as proposed by the Merchants' club of Chicago and to establish the connecting link between the north and south park systems. All of the other house bills on the order of first reading were advanced a notch, among them being the reciprocal demurrage measure, the anti-cigarette bill and one for which Mr. Pierson of Cook stands sponsor, making the publication of libelous statements against banks or bankers punishable by fine or imprisonment.

Binding-Twine Bill Up.

The so-called "binding-twine" bill, accepted by the union-labor lobby two years ago, was introduced by Mr. Lindly. He contends its passage will clarify the convict labor problem. Under its terms the prisoners would be employed in manufacturing binding twine. The bill is similar to the one offered in the senate Wednesday by Mr. Pemberton. Both measures ask for an appropriation of $100,000 to carry out the proposed law.

Makes Death by Violation a Felony.

A bill introduced makes violation of the provisions of the shot-firers' law which result in death or great injury a felony, punishable by penitentiary imprisonment from one to five years.

One of the proposed changes stipulated that in no case shall more than one kind of explosive be used in any one drill hole. The other amendments surround the firing of shots in mines with technical restrictions which the miners declare it would be impossible to carry out. The same bills were introduced in the senate by Chafee.

Bill Aimed at Railroads.

In direct line with developments in Wall other money centers the country, and the test against the ove of big corporations roads in particular, sp cance attaches to a bill W. H. Boys of the railro house commission for introduc the general assembly, providing state supervision of the issuing of railroad stocks and bonds in Illinois.

Although it has been known for some time that the railroad and warehouse commission was at work upon this measure, its appearance so soon after the visit of Gov. Deneen and Attorney General Stead to Washington for a conference with President Roosevelt, is taken as a corroboration of the statement given out in Washington that the principal purpose of the call of the Illinois officials to that city was for the consideration of this very question. The bill was drawn on the governor's suggestion.

Prison Twine and Curve Straightener.

Two old friends made their appearance when the order for introduction of bills was reached. Mr. Pemberton of Coles offered the measure which stirred the harvester trust last session and known as the binding twine bill, and Mr. Gardner of LaSalle presented the so-called "curve straightener," a railroad measure.

The former bill provides that the labor of the prisoners at the Joliet penitentiary shall be devoted to the manufacture of farm implements, binding twine, rope and bags, and appropriates $100,000 to carry out the purpose of the proposed act. The machinery and material manufactured are to be sold by the commissioners and residents of the state may purchase as much as desired up to April 1 of each year.

The "curve straightener" gives railroads the right of eminent domain to straighten their tracks. It was fought bitterly last session by Lieut. Gov. Sherman, who was instrumental in bringing about its defeat. He is said to have withdrawn his opposition.

Cash for National Guard.

The Illinois National Guard fared well at the hands of the house. Bills were passed appropriating $329,000 for the ordinary expenses of the guard, $90,000 for new uniforms for the soldier boys, $9,000 for the purchase of 60 acres adjoining the Camp Logan rifle range near Zion City, and $35,000 for buying the site of the Second regiment armory at Washington boulevard and Curtis street in Chicago. The lease of this site has expired and the land is on the market subject to a short-term option held by the officers of the regiment. The new supreme court building opposite the state capitol got from the house $200,000 for its completion. The last legislature appropriated $150,000 with the understanding that the finished building should cost $350,000.

For Senators by Direct Vote.

Election of United States senators by direct vote of the people instead of by the members of the general assembly is proposed in a joint resolution offered in the senate by W. Clyde Jones of Chicago. In the document congress is asked to call a constitutional convention for the purpose of taking up the subject and bringing about the change suggested. Iowa, Ohio and other states have already taken this stand. Under the constitution of the United States congress may be forced to act if two-thirds of the states adopt resolutions similar to the one presented by Mr. Jones.

Bills Disposed Of.

The resolutions for a constitutional amendment to assess a tax of one mill on every $100 property valuation for the maintenance of the University of Illinois was referred to the committee on appropriations. The bill providing that children between the ages of 14 and 16 years who are not regularly employed must attend school was advanced to second reading. This bill is calculated to reduce the number of youthful criminals.

Calls for Data on State Fair.

Expenditures made by the state board of agriculture in conducting the state fair at Springfield are to be made public. Without a dissenting voice the senate passed Mr. Chafee's resolution calling upon the president of the board and the secretary to make a detailed report to the senate accounting for the $200,000 appropriated by the legislature during the last two sessions.

Municipal Court Plan Referred.

The senate bill enabling the Chicago municipal court act was reported and referred to the committee on municipal courts. This is the measure that passed the senate Thursday by a bare majority and must be disposed of by the house this week in order that the changes proposed may be ratified by the voters at the election April 2.

Local Option Fight a Draw.

On a motion by its author, L. O. Browne of Ottawa, to suspend the rules for just four amendments which he proposed and no others, the saloon interests were able to muster only 65 votes, as compared with 76 which they had last week and 77 which are necessary to pass the bill. The local option people mustered 72 votes, whereas last week they could secure only 70 votes. Impartial observers declare the contest between local option and its opponents as the result of this ballot is a drawn battle.

ARE NOW ARTESIAN WELLS.

One Curious Result of the Earthquake at San Francisco.

It has just been discovered that the upheaval of April 18 did funny things to the wells in the courtyard at the rear of the San Francisco mint, says the Chronicle of that city. For years prior to April 18 these had been ordinary, well behaved wells, yielding water plentifully when a steam pump was employed. But now they are spouting artesian wells, from which a steady stream of water flows when no pumping is done. This was discovered when the pump was taken out for repairs, the courtyard being flooded within a short time.

The wells were bored many years ago, and are about 175 feet in depth. There was apparently a subterranean connection between them, for the pumping of water from one lowered the water in the other. Normally, the water was within 30 feet of the surface, and that was the condition when the pump was taken out last March. Recently, for the first time since March, the pumps were again removed, when it was discovered that the water flowed freely.

FROM FANCY TO FACT.

Delightful and Novel Experience Rudely Dispelled.

"Oh, thank you!" exclaimed the delighted wife, as her husband handed her a large bunch of money and told her to go right down town and buy everything she liked.

"Don't mention it," replied the husband. "I want you to have everything your heart desires in the way of dresses and bonnets this winter. I realize that I have not been as generous as I should have been, and I hope I may be able to make up for it now. Here, take this double handful of $20 gold pieces, too. Look out, there! You're dropping them."

But the double handful of gold 20s fell to the floor and went jingling here and there, and the husband laughed merrily until—

B-r-r-r-r-r-r!

It was the alarm clock, and she heard the voice of her husband saying:

"I'll be late to work again to-day. Say, lend me half a dollar, won't you? I have not enough money for carfare and lunch this morning."

It is such distressing occurrences as this that make women wish they had married the squit-eyed, freckled boy who afterwards left home and became a plutocrat.

Bank Books Oddly Lost.

Very few slips were made by the men in charge of the British post office savings bank system, but many curious incidents occur that cause them to be wary. It often happens that bank books are lost. One lost bank book disappeared in a storm wave, which had swept away all the effects of a coast guardsman. Another went down the gullet of a circus elephant; a third had been eaten by a goat, another by a pig, while a destructive puppy had rent to pieces the record of another troubled depositor. All these losses have to be investigated and made good. An army sergeant complained that he had lost his deposit book "while in the act of measuring a recruit for the army."

What Red Coral Is.

The red coral that is used for necklaces is a horny axis which supports a number of soft bodied, coral like animals, or polyps, the entire structure bearing a strong resemblance to a small shrub. The fishermen, after they have brought this shrub like colony to the surface, clean the soft animal matter away, preserving the red core, or axis, which is sold as jewelry. Although red coral contains some lime it is largely composed of a substance akin to horn, and, like horn, it takes a fine polish. Horn, wool, and other animal substances of this nature almost invariably change their color when brought into intense heat.—St. Nicholas Magazine.

Inflection.

The wife of an army officer at a western post recently had occasion to visit a small neighboring town, to do some shopping at what is called the general store. She was much entertained by the variety and antiquity of the stock of goods, and as she passed out her eyes were attracted by a pile of mottoes, elaborately lettered and ornately framed, the upper one being the scriptural passage: "Walk in love."

As she paused, the clerk, a dapper young man of more affability than advantages, stepped forward with the remark, "Them are the latest things in mottoes. This top one is swell to put over a young lady's door—'Walk in, love.'"—Lippincott's Magazine.

Greek and Roman Artillery.

Greek ordinance—which was adopted by the Romans without any material alteration—was, almost without exceptions, dependent on the handbow principle, says the Technical World Magazine. On trying to shoot a larger bullet to greater distances, the elastic arms of the bow were necessarily made so strong as to be no longer susceptible of tightening by hand. A tension shaft had therefore to be fitted to the bow, which shaft was tightened with levers or handwheels. Finally, as the power of bows altogether failed to insure the efficiency desired, their bending elasticity was replaced by the tensional elasticity of neura, that is, ropes made from animal sinews, woman's hair, or, in an emergency, horsehair.

The Pope and Cardinal Vaughan.

On the occasion of the great Marian congress in Rome, the pope summoned Father Bernard Vaughan to represent the English speaking peoples. The Italians were amazed to find him so un-English, as they thought, in his dramatic style. The story goes (says a writer in the New Oxford weekly paper, "'Varsity Life Illustrated") that one day the pope, in the presence of one of his cardinals mimicked the preacher's style, whereupon Rampolla exclaimed: "And he is an Englishman!" "No," replied the pope, "he was born on the top of Mount Vesuvius, and we sent him to England to cool."

MEN OF MANY LANGUAGES.

Cardinal Mezzofanti Probably the Greatest Linguist of them All.

Fifty-eight languages at the end of one's tongue! Yet this was the number of tongues of which the Cardinal Mezzofanti was master, and the most wonderful thing about it was that nearly all of these different languages had several separate dialects. Mezzofanti was probably the greatest linguist the world has ever known. To hear a language was with him to speak it. He was a man with three score words for every idea, and he laid his great attainments to his excellent memory and to the fact that once hearing a word he never forgot it.

There are few men nowadays who pass the mark of a speaking knowledge of ten languages. Six or eight seem to be the limit, even with men of great learning. Mithridates, Pico and Sir William Jones were said to be masters of over 20 tongues, and Sir John Bowring, Muller and Fresnel are said to have spoken in 20.—The Sunday Magazine.

BROKE STRONG MAN'S MIND.

What to Do with Present Too Much for Puzzle Inventor.

Marshal P. Wilder related at a dinner a striking personal experience:

"When I was a boy in Geneva," he said, "I was once taken through a hospital for the insane that was not far from the town.

"Many strange, many terrible things I saw in this hospital, but what affected me most deeply was the sight of a young man of intelligent and refined appearance who sat with his head in his hands mumbling over and over and over from morning till night:

"'I can't strap it around my waist and it won't go in my pocket. It isn't an automobile horn, because it won't blow. It isn't a lamp, for it won't light. I can't put it on my feet and it will not go over my head. It is neither a fountain pen, a pipe nor a balloonist's barometer. It looks like a golf glove, but it is not a tennis racquet. I can't—'

"Turning away, I asked the keeper the young man's history.

"'Ah, sir, a sad case,' the keeper said. 'One year ago that there young man was prosperous and renowned—the finest puzzle inventor and decipherer in the whole durn country. But on Christmas a young woman gave him a present made with her own hands and in tryin' to determine its name and its use the poor fellow became what you see.'"

RECALLED ROMANCE OF YOUTH.

Dr. Martineau's Pleasant Recollections of Years Gone By.

On the occasion of the ninetieth birthday of Dr. Martineau, who preached in Liverpool for many years, Sir Henry Roscoe, the English chemist, congratulated him on attaining such a fine old age.

The distinguished clergyman said that he had been overwhelmed with congratulations, and that he was working through the letters he had received.

"By degrees," he said, "I shall answer them all.

"One of the most remarkable," Dr. Martineau continued, "was from a lady, the only person who addressed me as 'dear James.' I had not seen her since we were boy and girl together in Norwich. She is one of the daughters of Dr. Rigby in that city. My friends used to joke me as a young man about Miss Jane Rigby, and I received their chaff pleasantly.

"I believed her long since dead; and now comes this letter to remind me of her existence and her friendly recollection of me."

The old minister paused an instant, then added, with a tremulous smile, "She is now also in her ninetieth year."—Youth's Companion.

THE INSTINCT OF DEATH.

Much Proof That This Sense Has Been Planted in Man.

The most convincing fact in proof of the existence in man of an instinct of natural death seems to me that reported by Toxarsky in relation to an old woman. In the lifetime of Toxarsky, I begged an acquaintance of his to obtain for me the details of this most interesting case, of which I had found but an incomplete statement. Toxarsky unfortunately could add nothing to what he had published in his article. I believe, however, that I have found the source from which his instance had been taken. In his book upon the physiology of taste, which had its day of celebrity, Brillat-Savarin relates the following: "I had a great aunt, 93 years old, who was dying. Although for some time confined to her bed, she had retained all her faculties, and her condition was only betrayed by her loss of appetite and the weakening of her voice. She had always shown a fondness for me, and I was near her bed, affectionately ready to wait on her, which did not prevent my watching her with the philosophical eye I have ever had for the things and events surrounding me. 'Are you there, nephew?' she asked, in a scarcely audible voice. 'Yes, aunt; I am here at your service, and I think you would do well to take a little good old wine.' 'Give, mon ami; one can always swallow liquid.' I hastened; raising her gently, I made her take half a glass of my best wine. She brightened for a moment, and looking at me with eyes which had once been very fine, 'Thank you,' she said, 'for this last favor; if ever you reach my age, you will find that death becomes a need, just like sleep.' These were her last words; half an hour later she had fallen asleep forever. We unmistakably have here an instance of the instinct of natural death. The instinct was shown at a relatively early age, in a person who had retained all her intellectual faculties."—Elie Metchnikoff in Harper's.

Let Babies Amuse Themselves.

One Dimension Didn't Suit.

Everybody in Biddeford, Me., knows Alderman Walter Lane, of ward Eight. One of York county's venerable attorneys went into his barber shop not long ago to get his head measured for a wig. On taking the dimensions of the lawyer's head the barber exclaimed: "Why, how long your head is, sir!"

"Yes," replied the legal gentleman, "we lawyers must have long heads."

The barber proceeded with his vocation, but at length exclaimed: "Why, sir, your head is as thick as it is long?"

The disciple of Blackstone looked so black that the barber told the boy to "Light those other chandeliers."

Change of Method.

"Investigations don't seem to be held in the spirit of courtesy and forbearance that once prevailed," remarked the old-time statesman.

"No," answered Senator Sorghum; "the situation is becoming rather difficult. People now hold investigations because they really want to find something out, instead of merely for the sake of soothing their minds."

One of the oddest humane laws in this country is in force in Nevada. TOOK THE FIRM'S TRADEMARKS.

Ingenious Hollanders Put Minnesota Firm in a Hole.

A Minnesota flouring mill company has recently had an experience in Holland which will not only make it more careful in the future but will serve as a warning to other concerns to pay strict attention to the protection of its own brands of flour under the peculiar registration laws of Holland.

For a number of years the company alluded to sold one concern in Amsterdam under one of its mill brands, a name made famous both in this country and abroad by years of quality and advertising, and to another concern in Rotterdam, under another mill brand, also well advertised and generally known.

Not long ago it occurred to the mill that it would be a good idea to register its brands in foreign countries, and it proceeded to do so. It then discovered that its Dutch correspondents had both registered its brand in their own names. It requested them to transfer the registration to the mill name. This was positively refused. Thus the mill is actually deprived of the use of its own brands unless it sells to the two concerns and no one else.

Under the laws of Holland these former representatives could prevent the mill shipping flour to other parties under its own established brand.

Other Minnesota mills have had the same unpleasant experience.

Mrs. Ann E. Farr has resigned her position as postmistress at Owl's Head, Mass., and James A. Brown has been appointed in her place. Mrs. Farr, who is 66 years of age, has been in charge of the post office at Owl's Head for 24 years. She is the wife of Chandler Farr, one of the oldest and best known residents of South Thomaston.

In spite of her increasing age she is enjoying excellent health and has always been able to attend to her household duties in addition to having charge of the post office. She is the mother of six children, four of whom are living.

Two Views of It.

Mr. Lovett—That was Miss McQueen, who just passed. She has such a regal way of walking.

Miss Chellus—Yes, isn't it the silliest wriggle you ever saw?
